

WOMAN WEPT WHEN TOLD OF JOHN HAMMOND'S DEATH TO-DAY

Ada Davis Still Insists That Her Lover's Dying Statement Accusing Her Is Not True.

Bartender's Last Thought Was For His Little Girl Who Lives in Fostoria—Affidavit Filed Against Miss Davis, Who Now Languishes in County Jail Hammond Dead at 10:47 A. M.

"I don't want to die, can't you save me? Oh my little girl, my little girl," were the last words uttered with his dying breath by John Hammond, who was fatally shot Friday morning.

At the East Main Street Sanitarium his spirit took flight from the body, racked with pain for nearly 36 hours, at 10:47 o'clock Saturday morning.

The tremendous physical constitution had kept him alive, but finally it gave up the struggle, and John Hammond went to meet his Maker. The physicians, and one or two relatives were at his bedside when the end came. The dying man was conscious until two minutes before his death. The body was taken to Bowers & Criss Bros. undertaking establishment where it was prepared for burial.

Ada Davis, who is held for the preliminary killing of John Hammond, was seen by an Advocate reporter Saturday morning. She was sitting on a couch in a cell in the Licking county jail, on the fourth floor. Her demeanor was rather that of defiance, than that of penitence for the death of her lover, of which she is accused. In fact she greeted the reporter with the remark:

"Yes, I know you. You talked to me yesterday. The account in the Advocate was all right, but I will talk no more."

"Do you know that Hammond is dead?" inquired the reporter.

"Oh God, no, is that true? Well, I didn't shoot him. Do I look as if I was a criminal?"

At this moment tears came into her eyes, her voice trembled and she was the picture of abject despair.

"Who got to the gun first during the quarrel that you and Hammond had?"

"I did —; no the gun was lying on the table. I'll talk no more."

She then reclined on the couch and nothing further would she say.

"ADA SHOT ME"

"From the Front Yard—The Door was Open at the Time," Said John Hammond Saturday.

John Hammond's injuries have proven to be necessarily fatal, and he made an ante-mortem statement to an Advocate reporter at 8:30 Saturday morning.

The wounded man lay on his bed at the Sanitarium writhing in agony when the reporter was shown into the room by Manager R. T. Ragdale, of the Sanitarium, writhing in agony.

"Good morning, Jack: how are you feeling?" asked the newspaperman.

His eyes roamed about and finally met those of his questioner, whom he then recognized.

"I told you the story the other night," he responded. This answer showed clearly that the unfortunate man had lost consciousness of time, but not of the circumstances of the tragedy.

"Jack, I don't want to bother you, but will you make a short statement for the Advocate?"

"I will tell you this (calling the reporter by name). Ada Davis shot me from the front yard. The door was open at the time."

Here he had another paroxysm of pain, and remarked, "I can't say anything further, don't bother me," at the same time throwing himself to the far side of the bed.

After a few moments of waiting the reporter asked him one more question. "Did you and Ada have a quarrel?"

"Yes, and she shot me. Oh, let me alone."

The dying man's sister, Mrs. Frank Swamy, and a little niece were in the room at the time of the interview. Besides the attendants who are giving the unfortunate man the best of attention.

The chance for the worse came about 7 o'clock Friday night, when it was discovered that the intestines had been punctured. When this hemor-

ROBBERIES In New York and Vicinity Amount to $200,000 Within a Week.

New York, Sept. 2.—Within a week robberies in greater New York and vicinity have amounted to such proportions that Commissioner McAdoo has issued instructions to the police department, ordering every man to use extra energy in running down the thieves. They are of the higher order of crooks. It is estimated that the recent robberies amount to $200,000.

DAVENPORT Alleged Swindler Sought by Police of Three States Captured at Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—George E. Davenport, the swindler sought by the police of three states for years, is under arrest here and will be taken to Cincinnati, as soon as requisition papers are issued. Postoffice Inspector Oldfield, of Cincinnati, caused the apprehension of Davenport, who, with his brother Harry, now said to be under arrest in Springfield, Ohio are declared by the postoffice authorities to be members of the gang said to have swindled small merchants and farmers throughout Ohio, Indiana and Illinois out of thousands of dollars by an alleged fake scheme to get country merchants and farmers to buy cloth through them. When they received it, they resold it and pocketed the proceeds. It is alleged, Davenport was captured in a prominent hotel in company with a woman, said to be the wife of a prominent physician of Osborn, O. Davenport was held in the federal courts in bonds of $5,000 to await a preliminary hearing on Sept. 8.

HAMMOND'S DAUGHTER HERE.

Hammond's daughter, who has been living with relatives in Fostoria, arrived in the city shortly after noon Saturday and was closeted with Chief Sheridan in his office in the city building during the afternoon. The nature of the interview is not known.

Pearl Hammond, accompanied by her cousin Miss Minnie Miller of Fostoria, arrived in the city this afternoon, to take charge of the funeral arrangements of John Hammond. They are strangers in the city, but the local bartenders' association will take charge of the funeral. The body will be sent to Findlay for interment.

The post mortem examination of John Hammond was held Saturday afternoon by Dr. D. M. Smith and E. G. Yowell and Coroner C. F. Legge. The bullet was found to have lodged in the lower portion of the pelvic cavity near the backbone. Death was caused by peritonitis. Dr. Legge has in his possession an ante-mortem statement from Hammond in which he accuses Miss Davis of shooting him.

STARVING TO DEATH

Oseola, Ia., Sept. 2.—"I will die on Sunday, September 5." This is the statement made by Charles Armstrong, 60, who has been fasting since August 1. Armstrong, who is very wealthy, determined 31 days ago to starve himself, giving as his reason that he has lived long enough and does not wish to be in any one's way. People at first thought he was joking.

Accept Prohibition.
Mustoge, 1. T., Sept. 2.—Much progress is being made by the committee of 50 appointed by the constitutional convention and the subcommittees which are drawing up a proposed constitution. The subcommittee appointed to report on a local option decided to name Fort Gibson, one of the most historic places in the Indian Territory, as the temporary capital. The committee of 50, by a unanimous vote, voted to accept the report of the subcommittee on prohibition.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 2.—The first draft of the treaty of peace between Russia and Japan has been completed, unless the counselors decide to review some of the articles.

RUSSIANS REcede FROM THE POSITION Taken by Their Counsellors—M. Witte Is to Visit Chicago.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 2.—The first draft of the treaty of peace between Russia and Japan has been completed, unless the counselors decide to review some of the articles.

E. B. Russ, of the state department, and John Sullivan, of the postoffice department arrived this morning. They are expert engrossing clerks of the government and have been ordered here upon the request of the envoys that the work of engrossing the final text of the treaty upon parchment may be done under the direction of the state department. They state that if the treaty does not exceed ten pages it would be possible to have it engrossed in two days of sixteen working hours each. While the treaty consists of 15 articles it is understood half of them are very brief. The desire of the envoys to permit of no delay in the signing of the treaty was made manifest at a late hour last night. The respective counselors who have been assigned to the duty of framing the document came to a decided hitch over the article relating to Saghalien. The particular point at issue was the question of fortification. The draft of the protocol of the morning at which it was agreed to divide Saghalien prohibited Japan to fortify the Russians contended that this by inference gave their government the right to erect fortifications. Two days conferences were unable to bring about an agreement and as the easiest way out of the difficulty the envoys of Japan and Russia arranged an informal meeting last night in M. Witte's room. After a thorough discussion the Russian envoys receded from the position taken by their counselors and it was agreed that neither government should be permitted to erect fortifications upon Saghalien Island.

The envoys also discussed the article of the treaty relating to the evacuation of Manchuria. A date will be later agreed to by which time the armies of both countries must be withdrawn, but the details will be left to the commanders in the field.

M. Witte has accepted an invitation from the Metropolitan club of New York to be its guest at a banquet some time during his stay in that city. He will afterwards visit Chicago, going by way of Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

Japanese counselor Dennison says that a few minor points are yet to be adjusted, but that the treaty is practically completed for the inspection of the envoys this afternoon, when it is understood, divergent views as to phraseology will be harmonized. Mr. Dennison announced that no messages have been received from the Mikado for five days. He admitted that the drawing of the armistice yesterday was taken by the Japanese envoys on their own responsibility.

BY THIEVES Is Raided a Millionaire's Mansion. Rich Party Being Secured.

New York, Sept. 2.—Joseph Aymer's residence at 75 East Fifty-fourth street has been raided during the past week of pawnbroking. A pawnshop, silver, and jewelry is alleged, more than $100,000. Mr. Aymer is a millionaire lawyer, who married Miss Lilian Latham Canby. The family is in Canada. The police photographed Mr. Aymer and he agreed to take the charge of the house. "There were $200,000 worth of furs, jewelry, silver and bric-a-brac in the house," said the valet, "and by half of it is gone."

SCORE INJURED Gardner, Manager, Shot by Pullman Train from Boston to New York.

Two men were killed and a score of others injured when a Pullman train from Boston to New York was struck by a freight car at the junction of the two lines near New York city. The freight car was carrying a load of lumber and it was the impact of the lumber that caused the damage to the Pullman train. The train was carrying a large number of passengers and the accident occurred while the train was moving at a moderate speed.

IN INDIA Famine Outlook Is To-day Worse Than It Has Been For Many Years.

Lahore, India, Sept. 2.—The famine outlook in India is worse to-day than it has been in years. At least three quarters of the Indian continent is suffering from lack of rain. A famine now appears to be inevitable and it is almost sure to be accompanied by many deaths. The extent of the famine will depend entirely upon the amount of rain which falls this month, and the signs are most unpromising.

MANIAC Who Has Been Terrorizing a Whole County Commits Suicide Saturday.

Lorain, O., Sept. 2.—Surrounded by the sheriff and posse near Avon, Peter Pitts Jr., the maniac, who has put the whole county in terror, shot himself through the head and died. Pitts slept last night in a barn two miles south of Avon. In the morning he went to French creek to the home of Grandfather Anton Liesan. He then walked to Sheffield township, four miles southwest. Sheriff Salisbury was notified and with 50 picked men hurried to the place. Pitts saw them coming and ran into the field. A great circle was formed and was closing in on the madman when a shot rang from the center of the field. Pitts was dead when the sheriff came up.

ENGINEERS Discussing the Feasibility of Sea Level or Lock Canal.

Washington, Sept. 2.—A notable board of distinguished engineers assembled in Washington upon the request of President Roosevelt to determine the relative feasibility of a sea level or lock canal in the division of the American continent at the isthmus of Panama. Constituting the consulting board of engineers for the canal plan, these men, gathered from both America and Europe, were picked from among the foremost in their profession. The first of the meetings at which they will grapple with the great problem began in a small room at the office building of the isthmian canal commission. The proceedings were opened by the reading of the letter of the president calling them together and a letter from Chairman Shonts of the commission which gives in detail the purposes for which the engineers are convened.

AT MOTHER'S GRAVE Harry Hoffman Committed Suicide in Chicago—Left Letters and Will. Sorry to Bother Officials.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Knocking at the side of his mother's grave in Rose Hill cemetery, Harry L. Hoffman, who recently arrived in Chicago from St. Louis, shot himself in the temple, dying two hours later in the hospital. The suicide was witnessed by a throng of mourners returning from a funeral. Many rushed to the grave, where Hoffman lay. He was last seen sent to the hospital, but did not remain conscious. The suicide left three letters and a will. Two of the letters were addressed to his father and George H. Hoffman, a brother and father-in-law of Hoffman. The third was addressed to the official of the cemetery. In this he expressed his sorrow for troubling them so much and begged that he be buried at the side of his mother.

BOYCOTT Of American Products Placed Under The Imperial Ban.

London, Sept. 2.—Information has been received from the Japanese government that a ban has been placed upon the importation of American goods into Japan. This is a direct result of the boycott of Japanese goods in America. The Japanese government has declared that it will not allow American goods to be imported into Japan as long as the boycott in America continues.

POPULATION OF MASSACHUSETTS. Increase of 16,715 in the Past 10 Years.

Boston, Sept. 2.—The population of Massachusetts has increased by 16,715 in the past ten years, according to the latest census. The increase is due to a combination of factors, including immigration and a higher birth rate.

CAPTAIN TAGGART MUST FACE COURTMARTIAL SAYS ARMY MAN

Lieutenant Fortescue Will Also File Charges Against Him It Is Said, at Wooster To-day.

Defendant in Present Divorce Suit Will be Witness Against "Tag" on Charges That Have Been Made by Gen'l Miner—Cross Examination at Wooster Is Over.

Wooster, O., Sept. 2.—Anxious to wind up the Taggart trial without delay, Judge Eason has decided to hold court on part of Labor Day. It is expected that the evidence will be all in and the arguments ended by Thursday.

This morning was spent in reading the depositions of army officers, who said the Captain was sober and to the best of their knowledge was kind to his children. Much rebuttal testimony was given. Judge Eason will probably not give his decision for several days after the arguments of the attorneys are completed.

Wooster, O., Sept. 2.—Whether or not he wins his suit for divorce, now being tried here, Captain Taggart must face a court martial in a fight for his shoulder straps.

"The court martial," says an army man involved, "is waiting the end of the trial, not because the decision, as has been supposed, would determine whether or not the charges would be pressed, but because the amended petition in the divorce case forms the basis of the court martial charges. It is a privileged communication and Taggart could not be brought to court martial for it until the case has been decided."

Information that Lieut. Fortescue, son of President Roosevelt, also will file charges for court martial against Taggart comes from an authoritative source. Fortescue is named as a co-respondent. He is now in Europe.

"That Fortescue will file charges is practically certain," is the statement of Captain James Taylor, attorney for Mrs. Taggart.

CHICAGO UNIVERSITY President Harper's Quarterly State- ment Shows Receipts and Expendi- tures Over Million.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—At the fifty-sixth convocation of the University of Chicago degrees were received by 14 students. The highest honor—election to membership in the Beta of Illinois chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa—was conferred upon three women and one man. The convocation address was delivered by Hamilton Garland, whose subject was "Vanishing Trails." The quarterly statement of President William R. Harper showed receipts during the year of $1,992,730, and expenditures of $1,005,672. The hope was expressed that the practice of interchanging professors between colleges might be extended.

QUARANTINE Escaped by Two Ohioans at New Or- leans—Youngstown Men Complain of Food and Lodging.

Havana, Sept. 2.—Walker F. Logie and W. H. Higgins, both of Youngstown, O., escaped from the quarantine station, to which they had been sent on arrival from New Orleans. Later they appeared at the American legation and asked for protection against the government that they remain in quarantine five days, alleging that the food and accommodations were bad. The legation detained the two men and notified the officers, who promptly took them to the Tricorona station.

WORST IS OVER Fever Record at New Orleans Bears Out Hopeful View of Dr. White and Other Fever Fighters.

New Orleans, Sept. 2.—The fever record here out the hopeful view of Dr. White and his fellow fever-fighters that the worst is over, and that if the citizens of New Orleans are watchful and continue to give the authorities the same co-operation they have shown in the past few weeks the miracle will be wrought of stamping out the fever before frost comes to lay low the last fugitive stevedore. Contrary to all expectation, the fever is assuming a milder form at the period when it was expected to grow most deadly, and the deaths have shown insignificant in number. This is true not only of New Orleans but the various points in Mississippi where the disease has appeared. In that state there have been about 70 cases to date and only one death. Wherever there has been a break in the fever, as at Louisville, and on some of the tributaries contiguous to New Orleans the victims were Italians, who either did not have or refused to accept vaccination.

HIGHEST HOTEL
IN WHOLE WORLD

NEWYORK SYNDICATE ARRANGES FOR FORTY STORY BUILD-ING TO BE ERECTED.

There Will be Accommodations in the
New Hotel for 2200 Guests—Some Novelties in It.

New York, Sept. 2.—A forty story hotel will soon be constructed in Thirty-second street, west of Broadway, on the site of the old "House of All Nations." When this structure is completed it will be the highest hotel building in the world and one of the most magnificent. The Pennsylvania railroad terminal when finished will be only one-half a block distant from the hotel and it is expected to furnish the hundreds of patrons necessary to make the big hotel a success.

Albert J. Adams, formerly known as the "policy king," who recently went to Mexico, saying he would spend the remainder of his days there and devote his large fortune to investment purposes for the benefit of his children, is at the head of a syndicate that will conduct the operation and which has been already capitalized at $5,000,000. It is understood he will not return to this country even to see the structure when it shall have been completed, preferring to leave the building management thereof to others.

The plans have so far progressed that bids for the work will be advertised for in a few days. The property is situated 175 feet west of Sixth avenue, at its junction with Broadway, in Thirty-second street. Its ground dimensions are 125 feet width and 200 feet depth, running through to Thirty-third street. Borings show that the best of rock foundations can be found within thirty feet of the present surface and that a sky scraper unsurpassed anywhere on earth can be built with absolute safety.

There will be accommodations in the hotel for 2,200 patrons, which will make it the largest in the world in that respect. Five hundred single rooms with baths will be provided and in every suite of parlor, bed room and bath will be a refrigerating box for wines and provisions. All the beds are to be of mahogany. Another novelty will be iced water for drinking purposes "flooded" in every room.

PRIVATE SCHOOL.

Miss Frances Smith will reopen her private school September 11 at 102 East Main street. Application for admission may be made at any time.

URGENT APPEAL

For Action by City Council Regarding The Newark & Mt. Vernon
Electric Railway.

(Communicated.)
The most important question before the citizens of Newark today is the success of the Newark and Mt. Vernon electric railway.

It is a fact worthy of note that our citizens have not taken the interest they should have taken in an enterprise fraught with such vast interests as the success of this road.

It opens up to the trade of our city a large territory which is not penetrated by any communication of transportation which must all be forwarded to our city before it can reach any of the leading trunk lines.

The wholesale and retail trade of Newark will be largely enhanced and the general prosperity must be increased in proportion. The application for a franchise is with the city council for its approval and the destiny of the road is in its hands. Will the friends of this great enterprise give their approval and aid in its success? Every detail has been met in every particular excepting the terminals in our city, and as soon as the franchise is secured work will commence on the construction of the road.

In connection with this is the proposed extension from Bladensburg to Wooster, completing a line of electric railway from Cleveland to Columbus via Newark, which would develop a large territory entirely favorable to our city. The route is located and rights of way are being secured by the promoters, who deserve great credit for their energy in developing an enterprise of such great benefit to our city and the country through which it passes. Let our business men give their encouragement to this much desired enterprise. Their assistance is necessary to help matters along. They need not fear for the building of the road. As soon as this franchise is secured the bonds are sold and the road will be completed.

A CITIZEN WHO KNOWS.

There is many causes in this section of the country that all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved that it is a constitutional disease, and therefore, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only cure known to the world. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, etc. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Since its last meeting Golden Rod lodge No. 100 has been called upon to mourn the loss of one of its most faithful members Brother Logan Frye, who has transferred his membership to the Celestial Lodge above. Brother Frye was a young man who was beloved by all of his brother Workmen, and the public in general. He was a Christian young man of exemplary deportment and noble bearing, and his loss will be keenly felt by the lodge. The sympathy of Golden Rod lodge is hereby extended to the bereaved family in their hour of sorrow and affliction. May that comfort and peace which only the All-Wise and Omnipotent Master Workman of the Universe can bestow be theirs and may we all clasp his hand in fraternal greeting when called upon to join the Celestial lodge above. Official action on the death of Brother Frye will be taken by the lodge on next Monday night.

Camels.

Monarch Lodge, No. 66, held a very interesting meeting and transacted considerable business. A large number of members was present and quite a little enthusiasm was manifested. The carnival committee reported $413.60 as the net receipt of the carnival. The report was received and filed and committee continued until some minor details were disposed of.

The auditing committee will make its report next Tuesday night. Brother Henry Shea treated the lodge to a box of fine cigars which were much appreciated by all present. Brother Shea received a hearty vote of thanks for the fragrant Havanas and a smoker was then indulged in.

Brother L. P. Shockley was reported as no better and was continued on the sick benefits under care of the lodge.

The membership campaign has begun and there will be some applications before the lodge next Tuesday night.

The second degree will be conferred on all candidates awaiting that degree on next Tuesday night, and the new drill team will have charge of the work.

A social session is talked of for the near future.

Every Camel is urged to be out next Tuesday night and help to boom the fall work. Come.

Supreme Secretary H. A. Collins of Toronto will attend the initiation, and quite a number of Foresters from neighboring towns and cities will probably be there. The work will be put on by a Darton team.

ROYAL ARCANUM

Put-in-Bay, O., Sept. 2.—The Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum held a secret session yesterday. The hearing of the protesting members was continued. E. B. Leonard of Warren, Ohio, endorsed the resolution made yesterday by Edwin Heben of Baltimore, "that a quotation of the new table of rates with the attained age clause stricken out be made operative by the Supreme Council." He represented Ohio members as willing to submit to further assessment if necessary, and to stand loyally by the Supreme Council, if only they could be satisfied that the best interest of the order was being considered.

James F. Lewis of Vincennes, Ind., endorsed the position taken by Mr. Leonard as to option "A" of the new table of rates. Chairman S. M. Tindley of New York, expressed the anxiety of the Supreme Council to hear everything that could be said in the way of argument why the rates adopted at Atlantic City by the Supreme Council should not be rescinded.

MINISTER IS BADLY INJURED

REV. LEWIS RUFFNER THROWN OUT OF HIS BUGGY NEAR THURSTON.

Head and Back Hurt by Fall—One
Horse May Die—Mr. Ruffner
Taken Home on a Cot.

The Rev. Lewis Ruffner, the well known old school Baptist minister, is reported to be in a serious condition at his residence near the Licking-Fairfield county line, not far from Hebron, as the result of an accident which happened near Thurston on Wednesday.

Mr. Ruffner was driving a team of horses when the animals took fright and upset the buggy throwing the minister out, badly injuring his back and head. He was taken to his home on a cot. One of the horses was so badly injured that it may not live.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight, to tell, that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters, I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. FREEZES

Himself in an Ice Box Two Hours Every Day to Cure Hay Fever. — Novel Experiment.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 2.—Chief Deputy Sheriff Ed Horn is spending several hours daily in cold storage in a brewery.

It is not that Horn likes beer or that he has a particular desire to be in cold storage. It's just because the hay fever season is here, and the only relief Horn can find is when he spends an hour or two each day in the refrigerator.

Now the real time for hay fever spells is from 10 a. m. until noon. The patient feels ugly, wants to kill something, sneezes and the scalding water gushes from his nose and eyes. So just at 10 every morning Horn lays aside his pen and rushes to the plant of the Columbia Brewing company, where by special arrangements he is let into the cold storage room. An hour or two he spends among the ammonia pipes until his blood is chilled, his fingers and toes benumbed and the million little devils in his nose are frozen stiff. He comes out with icicles a foot long hanging from his mustache, eyebrows, coat sleeves and trouser legs.

"It's the only relief I can find and still have time for business. I hope to be cured soon," said Horn.

PRAYER

And Never-Failing Faith Cured Her of Paralysis, the Woman Declares.
She Can Now Walk.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 2.—After being bed ridden and helpless for 26 years with an attack of paralysis which enabled her to use only her left arm and to move her head, Miss Delilah Breech of Catawissa township near here, is able to walk again.

She says that she was cured by continuous prayer and a "never-failing faith."

She was stricken when she was 11, and has never left her bed since until the last few days.

"I believed that if I continued to have faith Christ would come some time and help me and enable me to walk again," she said, "and during the last few weeks the power to use my muscles has gradually come back to me, and I now can walk some distance. During all the years when I laid in my bed I had implicit faith. I was a great Bible reader, and the more I read of the miracles the more was I impressed with the belief that some day I would be able to walk, and this week I walked in the streets of Bloomsburg."

WILL BE IN NEWARK

Monday, Sept. 4

While in Newark I want to talk to every sufferer from Contagious Blood Poison, Stricture, Varicocele, Nervous Debility, Hydrocele, Unnatural Losses, Rupture, Stomach, Heart, Liver Kidney Bladder and Rectal Diseases. In the treatment of these diseases I acknowledge no superior. I can give you the quickest, safest and surest relief obtainable anywhere. Years of experience in the treatment of Chronic, Nervous, Blood and special diseases, give me a large advantage over other doctors. I have cured thousands of weak, broken down, discouraged men. Investigate before treating elsewhere. I offer you something different and better in modern curative treatment than you can obtain anywhere else. Do not stand idly by and see your health menaced, and your manhood slipping away, when I can give you a permanent cure.

Live all Your Life a Man.

My treatment for Contagious Blood Poison is a preparation of my own, and contains no poisonous drugs, which I have used with unfailing success for many years. This preparation drives the poison forever from the system.

Nervous Debility and Lost Manhood are permanently cured by me as I use no temporary stimulants.

I cure Stricture, Varicocele, Unnatural Losses and Hydrocele in the latest manner and completely.

I give every person that comes to me a searching examination, after which, if I find your case is curable, I will cure you, but if the case is incurable I will not accept it.

Do not allow yourself to be discouraged, nor consider your case incurable, until you have consulted me and investigated my methods and terms. Consultation and Examination ABSOLUTELY FREE and Confidential.

I will be in Newark, at the Warden Hotel

AN ACTION FOR $10,000 DAMAGE

ADMINISTRATOR OF RAY ATWOOD BEGINS SUIT AGAINST THE TRACTION COMPANY.

Child Fell Into Hot Water Last April and Died at Hebron—Day's News from the Court House.

Amos Atwood, as administrator of the estate of Ray L. Atwood, deceased, has commenced suit in the Common Pleas court against the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company for $10,000 damages.

The plaintiff says that the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company, for the purpose of obtaining water for the boilers in their power house at Hebron, constructed a pipe line from the power house to the Ohio canal; that the steam, after use in the engines, being very hot, ran in great volume and force, whenever the power house and the canal from a pipe into a ditch that had been constructed to receive the hot water, and run from this point in a northeasterly direction to another ditch known as the township ditch, which was its outlet; that the grounds belonging were in operation and emptied were open to the public and unenclosed, and without any warning to the public of any danger on the grounds, or connected with the overflow pipes or exhaust pipes, and that the children of the village of Hebron, who resided in the vicinity, were in the habit of fishing along the canal where it is contiguous to the lands of the company, and of playing thereon; that when the water from the exhaust pipe emptied into the ditch it became and remained so hot as to be dangerous to the life of any one who should fall or be thrown into it.

Plaintiff says that on April 25, 1905, defendant carelessly and negligently allowed the ditch from the mouth of the pipe to become filled up with mud and sawdust; that on this day Ray L. Atwood, a lad of 11 years, fell into the ditch and was scalded and burned up on the back and legs so badly that he died on the 27th of that month.

Plaintiff says the parents, Amos Atwood and Sadie E. Atwood, and his brothers and half-brother and half-sister, have been damaged to the extent of $10,000, for which judgment is asked. Jones & Jones, attorneys for the plaintiff.

Real Estate Transfers.
Caroline Baldwin and George F. Conway to George H. Fromholtz and Daniel Altshool, real estate in Newark, $450.

John A. Chilcote and wife to C. W. Wallace, real estate in Newark, $1800.
Wm. L. Rouse and wife and John D. Rouse and wife to Rose C. Rouse, lot 9 in St. Louisville, $100.
A. A. Eversole and J. P. Eversole to George Ruffner, lot 194 in Hebron, $1500.

John A. Chilcote and Benj. B. Jones to Chas. W. Wallace, real estate in Newark, $600.

Rachel McKnight and husband to Joseph C. Spencer, real estate in Madison township, $1,100.

Court Items.
In the case of the State of Ohio vs. Charles Cole, charged with making an assault and battery on John W. Tomney, the defendant appeared before "Spire Lake, pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for next Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock.
William Dennis, charged with making an assault on Philip Hiller, had his hearing before "Spire Lake, and was fined $1 and the costs.

Ugly Charge Against Teamster—Dependent Farmer Ground to Pulp—Extending Pipe Line—Ohio News.

St. Marys, Sept. 2.—The authorities arrested three more wealthy farmers residing near the scene of the bulkhead dynamiting. The farmers were Isaac Sheeley and sons, Lee and John, whom they charged with being among the ones responsible for the crime. All three were released on giving $5,000 bond. In all this makes eight arrests, six of whom are wealthy farmers. Many people doubt the guilt of the farmers and are prone to believe that the crime was originated by parties desiring the abandonment of the canal. Officers say more arrests will follow.

The farmers arrested Thursday night, Isaac Brandon, county commissioner of Mercer county; H. B. Bennett, ex-county infirmary director, and J. C. Petrie, wagon manufacturer and blacksmith, finally succeeded in securing bondsmen and left at once for Mercer county. The two former were placed under bond of $5,000 each and Petrie's bond was fixed at $1,500.

Several attempts have been made to coach Coalition and Wright, the two alleged dynamiters in jail, but without success, as they are closely guarded.

Those Forged Pay Checks.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 2.—Of the forged pay checks of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railroad, which may ultimately reach $100,000, thousands of which are turning up every day, the Market National bank of this city has discovered $1,508 in two days, and more are constantly coming in from the small banks in southern Indiana, which section, together with Cincinnati, is supposed to have been flooded with them. Aside from a few slight defects, the trick, as a forgery, is one of the neatest that the officials of the Market National bank have encountered in years.

Mrs. Taggart Concludes.

Wooster, O., Sept. 2.—The cross-examination of Mrs. Taggart by Attorney Sterling in the Taggart divorce case has been finally concluded. Mrs. Taggart vehemently denied that she ever had correspondence with General Bell or General Miner in which she attempted to have Captain Taggart court-martialed. Referring to the charges against her in connection with the slumming trip and a French ball in San Francisco, Mrs. Taggart appeared much annoyed and sharply replied "No, sir!" to each of the questions bearing on that subject.

Under the Wheels.

Urbana, O., Sept. 2.—Lawrence Faive, for 25 years the Erie car inspector at this point, had his head literally ground to a pulp while at work beneath a car. He was repairing it when the yard crew, not knowing that he was there, backed down on him. He was 50 years old, and leaves a wife and three daughters.

Ugly Charge.

Xenia, O., Sept. 2.—Ellsworth Mitchell, 35, white, a teamster, was arrested and is now in jail, charged with having committed an assault on Lena Lewis, an 8-year-old white girl. Mitchell roomed at the home of Frank Lewis, father of the girl, for the last four weeks. The child accused Mitchell.

Despondent Farmer's Deed.

Lima, O., Sept. 2.—Nicholas, Kill, 35, a farmer, left his work in a field and, shouting to a companion that he would end all, threw himself in front of a Clover Leaf passenger train going 40 miles an hour, and was ground to a pulp. He had been despondent and threatened to commit suicide.

Murder and Suicide.

Sandusky, O., Sept. 2.—William Bachman, a dwarf living on a farm near Union Corners, shot his wife, perhaps fatally, and committed suicide by jumping into a cistern. He was recently a plaintiff in a divorce case, in which he alleged that his wife was too intimate with farm hands.

Toothache Killed Him.

Upper Sandusky, O., Sept. 2.—Toothache caused the death of George Lear, a prominent farmer yesterday afternoon. His jaw swelled so that he could not open his mouth, and, in order to extract the tooth, a lance was used. After the operation he died.

Met at the Train.

Lancaster, O., Sept. 2.—Thirty-eight class workers of the Burns factory have arrived here in charge of Larry Cullen, from Hartford City, to fill the places of the Faulkner men in the C. P. Cole factory. They were met at the depot by a local delegation and later went into conference with the Faulkner men. It is understood that 13 of the arrivals will not go to work. Thomas Gray, past preceptor, who was to have been the manager of Cole's factory, has resigned.

Starting Pipe Laying.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 2.—General Manager John M. Garrard, of the Ohio Fuel company, announces that the work of laying the natural gas mains to Norwood will be started Monday. By cold weather they will have been laid to Xenia. Mr. Garrard stated also that his company expects to make application to enter Cincinnati from Norwood.

Officers Identify Castor.

Columbus, Sept. 2.—Police Chief Wagner and County Detective Watson of Erie, Pa., here today identified Fred Castor, the Flint, Mich., man held for the murder here of Detective Davis, during the burglary raid as the slayer of Detective Sergeant Higgin.

Bids All Too High.

Columbus, O., Sept. 2.—The state board of public works today reported all bids for the dredging of the northern division of the Ohio canal. They were excessive. New bids will be called for.

Windowglass Workers.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 2.—The announcement was made at the headquarters of the Amalgamated Windowglass Workers here that 5,600 men started to work today. This means that 21 factories, representing 624 jobs, have started operating. A large number of concerns have signed the wage scale. No settlement between this organization and the local assembly No. 300, Knights of Labor, has been effected, and President A. L. Faulkner stated that no adjustment is in sight.

Disappointed Jap.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 2.—Disappointed because the Japanese government renounced all indemnity in the peace settlement and did not insist on greater territorial acquisitions from Russia, Sinosuke Kitani, Cleveland's leading Japanese merchant, has renounced his allegiance to the mikado by taking out his first naturalization papers. Similar action on the part of his fellow countrymen is said to be also contemplated, as they believe their country showed weakness.

TWELVE ARTICLES

Of Peace Treaty Agreed Upon—Slight Hitch Is Reported—Both Sides Realize Unpopularity.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 2.—The only serious hitch on the horizon of the peace conference, according to reports current here, which, however, are not officially confirmed, arises out of an evident misunderstanding over the question of the neutralization of the island of Sakhalin. According to the Japanese the understanding reached on Tuesday contemplated a mutual obligation on the part of the two countries not to fortify their respective possessions on the island. At St. Petersburg, however, there seems to have been an assumption that the agreement involved freedom of action upon the part of Russia in this respect in the north of Sakhalin, with an obligation on the part of the Japanese not to fortify or use for strategic purposes the portion owned by her before 1876, which is to be retroceded in the present treaty. It is expected on both sides, however, that the hitch, if it really exists, will shortly be straightened out.

The treaty must be engrossed in French and English in duplicate, which may take several days. It is stated that 12 articles of the treaty have been completed and agreed upon. It now seems probable that the framers will be able to confine the treaty to 14 articles instead of 15, as was the original plan.

Japan has refused to consent to the cessation of hostilities until the treaty of peace has been signed. Japan having indicated through Baron Komura her willingness for an armistice, Mr. Witte supposed that he would find them ready to sign. Baron Komura explained that while his government was ready to consent to an armistice, his instructions were that this should not take effect until after the signing of the treaty. The discussion lasted for half an hour, the Russian position being that Japan's contention was without precedent, and if the armistice was not to take effect until the signing of the treaty, it was practically unnecessary. However, the Japanese were insistently entered into providing for an armistice which shall take effect the moment the treaty is signed.

The ceremony of signing the "Treaty of Portsmouth" will be as quiet and unostentatious as possible. Both sides desire to avoid any spectacular features. Both realize that for different reasons the treaty will not be popular in their respective countries. In Japan, especially, there is expected to be a great popular outcry. "We know," said a member of the Japanese mission, "that we are going home to stones and perhaps dynamite."

Baron Komura and M. Witte will go separately to Oyster Bay to express thanks on behalf of their respective governments and say "Goodbye." M. Witte expects to sail Sept. 12 on the Kaiser Wilhelm II.

M. Witte continues to receive messages of congratulation from all over the world. He reads each one and gives directions to his secretary regarding the answers to be sent.

CONDUCT

Atlanta's Mayor Condemned by the City Council.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 2.—The city council adopted resolutions condemning Mayor James G. Woodward for his conduct at the recent meeting of the League of American Municipalities at Toledo. The resolutions declared that while Mayor Woodward was attending the convention in his official capacity he appeared on the floor of the convention in a state of partial intoxication, and that he made a spectacle of himself, bringing discredit upon this city and outraging the feelings and sentiments of the people. Mayor Woodward appeared before the council and declared that he had been greatly wronged, that he had no apologies to make to Mayor Dunne of Chicago for his attacks upon him in his talk at Toledo. While admitting that he drank a little beer, he declared he was not intoxicated.

Spread of Printers' Strike.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Spread of the job printers' strike to other cities is a possibility, following the arrival of President James Lynch of the International Typographical union. In a conference here President Lynch will talk over the situation as it applies to Chicago and the whole country with President Wright, John C. Harding and other Chicago leaders. After the conference an order may be issued calling out printers in several large cities where the national typothetae has shops. This action is counseled by some in order to weaken the strength of the Chicago typothetae. It is urged that with strikes going on in other cities the Chicago typothetae will be unable to get men to come here to take positions. The typothetae convention will be held at Niagara Falls, N. Y., next week.

GALE RAGED.

Fire Destroys Docks, Warehouses and Other Valuable Property.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 2.—With a gale blowing at the rate of 35 miles an hour fire destroyed the dock of the Oregon Railway and Navigation company and the Pacific Coast Elevator company's warehouse in lower Albina, entailing a loss of $250,000. The wind carried the flames across the Willamette river, dry kilns of the Eastern and Western Lumber company on the West Side being burned. Previously a fire at St. Johns, a suburb of this city, one and a half miles down the river below the destroyed docks, had destroyed the plant of the St. Johns Lumber company, the Oregon Fire company mill and the wood yards of the Peninsula Wood company.

Yellow Jack at New York.

New York, Sept. 2.—Henry R. Wardell, an American employed by the Panama railroad as a boiler maker, is seriously ill with yellow fever in the quarantine hospital on Swinburne island. Wardell arrived in New York as a first-class passenger on the Panama railroad steamer Havana from Colon. Two days before arrival he had applied to the ship's doctor for treatment. Dr. Doty sent him to Hoffman island and later Wardell became so ill that he was transferred to the Swinburne island hospital. His condition became steadily worse and it now is a well-marked case of yellow fever. He is in a serious condition and is being closely watched. Wardell is 43 years of age.

Said to Be a Swindler.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—George Davenport, said by the postoffice inspectors of Cincinnati and Chicago to be a swindler, was arrested here. It is claimed by the federal authorities that Davenport has swindled many business men and farmers in various parts of the middle west during the last two years. His method of operations is declared by the officers to have been to sell woollens and silks, and then to get the man who purchased it to send it to a branch house, which Davenport claimed to have, to be made into garments. The purchaser would never see his goods again.

French Reply to Germany.

Paris, Sept. 2.—The French reply to the German note on the subject of Morocco was delivered to Prince Radolin, the German ambassador. The situation is described as being most amicable and it remains only to fix the date and place for the international conference. The sultan of Morocco calls attention to the fact that the original invitation to the powers to attend a conference fixed on Tangier as the place and laid down the program desired.

Demand Increase of Wages.

New York, Sept. 2.—Work on nearly 100 buildings in process of construction throughout the borough of Manhattan was stopped when 2,000 members of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' union struck. The strikers demand $4.50 a day and have refused a compromise offer of the employers to give them $4.25. When they stopped working they were receiving $4 a day.

Reception to Fairbanks.

Watertown, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Vice President Fairbanks was honored by a public reception in this city in which Democratic and Republican organizations united. After an automobile tour through the city he returned with Secretary of State John W. Foster to the latter's summer home on Lake Ontario, where he is the guest for a week.

Damaged by Hurricane.

San Jose, Costa Rica, Sept. 2.—A hurricane of extraordinary severity caused considerable damage to the banana plantations. American enterprises suffered a great deal. No details of the losses are yet available.

CITY TEACHERS AT THE INSTITUTE

SUPT. VAN CLEVE GIVES TALK ON
"HIS FATHER'S SON"
FRIDAY.

Mrs. Weidel Gives a Good Lecture on Methods of Teaching the Speer System.

At Friday morning's session of the City Teachers' Institute, Mrs. Weidel gave an exceedingly good lecture on the method of teaching the Speer system in the sixth grade, and in the last session of the forenoon continued the work in the seventh grade.

Superintendent Van Cleve gave a very interesting talk on "His Father's Son," on the subject of heredity. Mr. Van Cleve started out by making a few fundamental definitions on the principles of evolution, being, first, heredity and second, environment. He said that he did not propose to discuss environment. But that the fundamental law of heredity is that every living thing produces its kind, and only its kind. According to Galton, the greatest authority on heredity, every child inherits one-half of all his physical and moral qualities from his father and mother; that he inherited one-fourth of the remainder from his grand-parents, one-eighth from his great grand-parents, and one-sixteenth from his great great grand-parents.

Mr. Van Cleve then asked the question "What is Transmission in Heredity?" He answered his own question by saying that not only was physical heredity transmitted but a certain something which he illustrated by saying that it would be entirely possible for children of musical parents to be unmusical, and that it would be practically impossible for them not to be artistic in some form. He then defined the seven kinds of heredity, and said that the two kinds of direct heredity were from the father and mother and initial heredity.

He drew some practical lessons from the scientific treatment of the subject for application in the school room.

Friday afternoon Supt. Van Cleve again spoke on "Power, Perils and Problems of Personality, and Poems That Every Child Should Know."

AMUSEMENTS

That scene in Sol Smith Russell's "A Poor Relation" in which Noah Vale the poor inventor, stands the little boy inside an empty barrel, while he mends the little fellows trousers, and then puts them on him again, creates no end of laughter. The play will be seen at the Auditorium tonight.

THE HOLY CITY.

Conspicuous for sagacious management and for the success of their companies presenting "A Royal Slave," Gordon and Bennett, have with this season's production, excelled in the theatrical endeavor. In this great Biblical drama, "The Holy City," there is combined such wealth of acting, allegory, music and spectacle as has rarely if ever been seen. The possibilities for dramatic effect, with which the thrilling narrative of John the Baptist abounds, have been utilized with great skill and apparently unlimited cost. The acting company is noted for its integral brilliancy; the scenes present history in radiant splendor; the stage paraphernalia, all of which is carried by the company, being of impressive beauty. The integrity of its management first called public attention to the play; its matchless performances are carrying those endorsements which honesty of purpose and skillful design command. The presentation of "The Holy City" here, will be eagerly anticipated. At the Auditorium, Monday evening. Seats on sale Saturday.

DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE.

The announcement of the coming of Elwyn Strong on Saturday matinee and night, at the Auditorium, carries with it a great deal of interest to the theatre goers as he will give this great drama a grand presentation. Mr. Strong's presentation of it will have most-adequate aid in the very excellent company he has selected, and the splendid scenic equipment furnished by the management. Many novel and thrilling electric effects and chemical illustrations have been added and the performance in its entirety will be the most important event in the season's theatrical history. Mr. Strong is personally a most interesting character, a combination of the mental and physical.

A SLAVE OF THE MILL.

For lavish expenditure in scenic, electrical and mechanical stage effects Gordon & Bennett's "A Slave of the Mill," is the greatest example of what money can do, for it has not been spared. The play is from the master hands of Hal Reid and Harry Gordon, and is in four acts and six scenes and abounds in plenty of sensational climaxes. Auditorium soon.

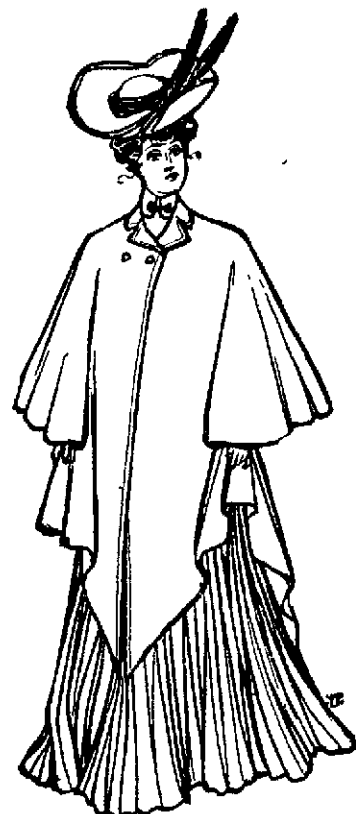

The number of Russian prisoners in Japan at the end of May was 60,419, including 10 admirals and generals, 68 colonels, 986 captains, lieutenants and ensigns and 3,460 petty officers. By June 10 the total had been increased by the addition of 7,282 officers, and more taken in the battle of the Sea of Japan.

FOR THE TRAVELER.

Smart Cloak Model of Many Useful Adaptations.

The subject of traveling cloaks naturally comes uppermost at this season and each year these useful garments become an object of more exacting and critical regard. In the accompanying sketch are explicated the merits of a cloak that comes from Paris and seems of special worth and usefulness.

The ordinary cloak can hardly lay claim to be considered a thing of beauty. It is a covering from dust and dirt or lends additional warmth and protection from drafts or rain, but is strictly utilitarian; also, as a rule, it is absolutely out of the question where any but the orthodox tailor traveling garb of severely plain coat or shirt and skirt is worn.

Now, this French cloak goes a step further, for, while it fulfills to perfection the ordinary functions of a traveling wrap, it possesses in addition a charm of its own, so that it may do duty as a carriage wrap over the smartest of toilets at garden party or race meeting and will not come amiss on occasion if an evening cloak is not forthcoming.

The cloak is of simple enough construction, consisting only of front and back pieces, with the addition of wide winglike sleeves set into armholes of generous proportions. It is pointed both back and front, reaching in the former to a slightly greater depth than in the latter, while the full hanging folds of cloth fall in graceful cascaded fashion at either side.

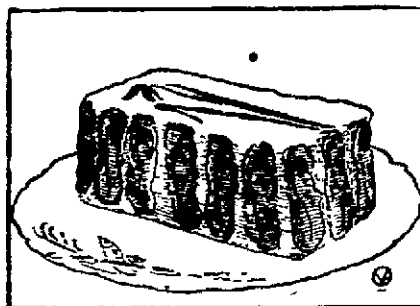

At the neck the usual revers and collar specially dedicated to tailor work form a fitting completion and afford an opportunity for smartening up in the shape of a collar facing of tan kid, white, suede or delicately colored velvet.

As for material, a good thin coating which has been subjected to some waterproofing process makes an ideal garment for road traveling, while a fine smooth cloth is best for smarter wear. Alpaca, too, is in many respects unequalled for such use, being beautiful in light and possessing great resisting qualities all its own.

A thin silk lining makes both for comfort and appearance, either white or pale toned glace doing wonders toward an ultra smart appearance. These, however, would be out of place for road traveling.

At a Company Luncheon.

Pour one quart of ripe peaches, pared and pitted, into a freezer after sprinkling with one pint of fine sugar and the juice of one lemon; add one pint of plain sweet cream and turn the dasher until frozen; pack in a brick mold lined with lady fingers, on each of which has been placed cooked citron cut into stems and petals. Place citron stems and flowers on the bottom of the mold. Cover the mixture with oiled paper, tie cover over and pour melted suet around the edge; pack in ice and salt for two hours.—Table Talk.

A Cat Table.

At every English bazaar the cat table is always a money raiser. It proved to be the hit of a New England fair. Cats and kittens, aristocratic and plebeian, came at the first request in scores, in hundreds, and they sold—how they did sell! There were other wares besides cats—baskets and blankets for cats, cat collars, cat bells, cat pillows, framed cat pictures, cat saucers, pussy in plaster, pussy in stuffed calico, to say nothing of ten cent bunches of catnip, which were all sold before the first day of the fair was over. The cash drawer held more money than that of any other table, the doll table.—Good Housekeeping.

Butter the Bump.

I was told if a bump was well buttered the skin would not turn black and blue. I had little faith in the remedy, but happened to try it and found that no mark was left. Butter is always within reach and my little ones have been saved many ugly looking marks.—M. S.

hurled some distance. The lad was only about 40 yards from the place where he was to have left the track to go to his home when struck. He resides on the Newark road about seven miles out of Zanesville. The lad was taken to the Zanesville hospital where he regained consciousness. He was bruised considerably all over his body being injured the worst about the face and head.Dr. Wm. Klemm attended him at the hospital. The lips of the young man were gashed in several places and it was necessary to take eight stitches in them to close the wounds. Several large contusions were also found on the head. The young man received no broken bones. He will be able to be around in a few days.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY

From Newark to Mt. Vernon—Franchise May Soon Be Granted—
Misunderstanding Corrected.(Continued)
I desire to correct a mistake in a paper a few days ago. The article which I have referred to said that the application for a franchise for the Newark and Mt. Vernon electric railway had been before the council for six months, when it should have read that if the citizens of the city on the streets on which a franchise was sought had given their consent the franchise would have been granted by the city council, and the road would have been under construction for six months.The application for a franchise has been in the hands of the law committee for a short time and the suspense consequent for all delays will be overcome and our citizens will be permitted to enjoy the satisfaction of knowing that another interurban road will be completed, outfranking for the business interests of our city any that may be promoted.The publication was not a misunderstanding, was not made for the purpose of misrepresenting the city council or the Advocate, and I hasten to make the proper correction. M. R. H.Why not order Hurbach's big

INTERURBANS TO BUILD A DEPOT

MAMMOTH UNION STATION NOW BEING PLANNED IN CITY OF COLUMBUS.

Five Sites are Being Considered—Erection of a Six Story Building Contemplated.

The Columbus Interurban Terminal company, with a capital stock of several million dollars, will soon be incorporated to build a mammoth passenger depot, which will be the terminus of all the standard gauge interurban roads entering Columbus.

The location has not been decided upon. Five sites are being considered, but not until the plans of the corporation are developed will any definite announcement be made.

It is known that the United Gas Improvement company, known as the Widener-Elkins syndicate, which eventually expects to secure control of the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark; Columbus, Newark and Zanesville, C. L. & S., and D. S. & U. roads, is interested in the move, but until it has completed its plans the Columbus parties interested are unwilling to give out definite information.

The sites now being examined and upon which options are being taken are as follows: From Third to Pearl street, and from Rich to Walnut; from Third to Pearl and from Town to Walnut; from Third to Central Market house and from Rich to Walnut; from Third to Pearl and from Gay to Lynn; from Third to Lazelle and from Gay to Lynn.

Under no circumstances will any site be considered having less than 60,000 square feet of space, while 125,000 square feet would be considered more available. For this reason the territory from Third to Pearl street and from Rich to Walnut is considered the most available.

The Interurban Terminal company contemplates the erection of a six-story building with an arcade in the shape of a T. The upper floors will be used for office purposes, the eight companies to occupy a majority of the space.

The lower floor facing the street will be used as business rooms and a general passenger station. Fifty per cent of the ground space will be used as a freight house for the different companies.

It is known that if the Widener-Elkins syndicate is able to secure the Appleyard and Tucker-Anthony lines an interurban express company will be organized, which will be a formidable rival to the present railroad express companies.

According to the Widener-Elkins plans, the bondholders and general creditors of the C. L. & S., D. S. & U. and the Columbus and Grove City lines are to be paid in full and these roads will be taken over intact. When this is done application will be made to have Receivers Schmedlapp and Wilson discharged. The Tucker-Anthony roads are to be bought outright.

The Philadelphia people will not touch the Central Market road. It must be sold at receiver's sale and will probably be bought by the Columbus Railway and Light company.

CONTROVERSY

Regarding Use of Loop by Buckeye Lake Company Starts Business Men's War at Columbus.

Columbus, O., Sept. 2.—The controversy over the propositions of the interurban railways to abandon the use of the loop and erect a magnificent union station at Rich and Third streets, has taken a sensational turn. A delegation of business men, representing the South Side Business and Improvement association and the Hub board of trade, Friday inaugurated a counter movement to that of the North High street business men, who formed an organization to influence council to reconsider the vote by which it passed the ordinance relieving the Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company from operating its cars around the loop.

North Side business men notified council that 100 citizens would hand Tuesday night to council and council reconsider his action and give them a chance to be heard in opposition to the abandonment of the loop.

In the meantime President George D. Jones of the city council has made what he regards as an important discovery. He says that neither the Buckeye Lake nor any of the other interurban companies with the exception of the C. L. & S., is bound by its franchise to operate cars around the loop. He points out that the franchise of the Buckeye Lake company merely contains a provision that "it shall operate half its cars around the loop whenever council requires it to do so," and council has never taken any action requiring it to do anything of the kind. The operation of cars around the loop by the Buckeye Lake company has therefore been a voluntary act.

APPEAL IS MADE FOR CITY POOR

SALVATION ARMY HAS MANY CALLS FROM PEOPLE WHO NEED CLOTHING.

Officers in Their Work About Town Know Deserving Poor and Want to Give Assistance.

Many Newark people who are blessed with plenty of the world's goods, fail to realize that the poor of the city suffer for want of the necessities just the same in summer time as in the winter.

No one in the city has the opportunity to see these people and know their wants like the officers of the Salvation Army. To the Advocate, one of the local Army officers made the following statement:

"In our daily rounds we come in contact with many worthy people who are in need of pecuniary assistance, but are oftentimes too proud to let their condition be known to the outside world. However, they have no scruples about letting the Army officers know about it. It is a source of regret to us that we have no reserve fund from which to draw to relieve such cases.

"We appeal to the philanthropic Newark citizens to donate money and clothing. If it is inconvenient to send the donations to us, a telephone call will reach us and we will call for the articles. Our telephone number is Red 9552."

RECORDER GIVEN A PRETTY RING

MR. J. W. RUTLEDGE SUCCEEDED BY NEW RECORDER, MR. P. M. BRILL.

Presentation on Behalf of Court House Officials by Deputy Clerk Larason Saturday Afternoon.

Mr. J. W. Rutledge who has filled the office of county recorder to acceptably for the past two terms, or six years, retired Saturday and gave place to his successor, Mr. P. M. Brill, who was elected to the office last fall. Just before he left the office Saturday afternoon, and while he was seated in his chair engaged in putting the finishing touches to his official business, Mr. E. M. Larason, deputy clerk of the courts, stepped up, surrounded by the court house officials and a number of friends and in a very happy little speech, in which he dwelt on Mr. Rutledge's worth as a man and as an official, presented Mr. Rutledge with a solid gold ring, set with three large garnets. Mr. Rutledge was so surprised and affected that it was some time before he could respond.

Mrs. Ella Connell will continue as deputy recorder under Mr. Brill.

SOUVENIRS

On Sale at Granville Centennial Headquarters During Coming Week—Many Articles Offered.

Granville, O., Sept. 2.—The Granville souvenirs will be on sale in the reception hall at Centennial headquarters under the supervision of Mrs. A. K. Follett and her assistants. There will be postal cards, buttons, vest pocket mirrors, spoons, hand painted souvenir cards, the Centennial Quarterly and other articles. The Centennial spoon was specially designed for the occasion and the Granville coat of arms which is also used on the official stationery and programs.

This coat of arms is a shield quarterly, the first quarter the arms of Massachusetts, the third the emblem of Ohio, the second and fourth the wedded interests of Granville as symbolized by the stump pulpit and the lamp of learning. The crest a turkey displayed proper. The motto: "The fathers are the glory of the children."

ATTEND THE Night School AT THE BLISS BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Evening is the time for young men and women, who are employed during the day, to improve their educational conditions. With this in view, we have prepared a special line of work for all classes of people who work throughout the day, to come to our school three evenings each week, and take up any line of study they may desire in order to fit themselves for better and more remunerative employment.

We wish to assure all such persons, who have not had the opportunity to educate themselves in the public school, that if you come with a poor education or with a good English knowledge, we will take you from where we find you, through the work individually, so that at no time does anyone need lose any time or feel embarrassment.

STATE NEWS

Receiver's Final Report.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 8.—The final report of the Citizens' Savings and Trust company as receiver of the Lake Shore Electric Railroad company was filed in the United States circuit court. In closing the report the receiver asks that it be discharged and the receivership discontinued. The reports show that $968,262 has been disbursed in accordance with the order of the court. The receiver turns over to the company $800,000 over and above all claims it has paid. Extensive improvements are said to be in contemplation, among them the laying of a double track.

Stole Shoes From Horse's Feet.
Columbus, O., Sept. 8.—The smallest horse ever exhibited at an Ohio state fair is owned by Cobb Javitt of Ashley, O. The diminutive specimen is but 28 inches high and weighs 85 pounds. It is five years of age and is shod with silver shoes. During the absence of the stableman some individual stole two of the silver shoes from the horse's feet.

Boy Rout Burglars.
Coshocton, O., Sept. 8.—Thirteen-year-old Ben Maxwell, with a shotgun, guarded his three little sisters while his parents were at the state fair, and wounded one burglar. Two men gained entrance to the house and laughed when Ben told them not to come up stairs. He fired three times, wounding one, but both escaped. No clew.

Jokesmiths Elect.
Cleveland, O., Sept. 8.—W. R. Ross of the Cleveland Plain Dealer was elected president of the National Press Humorists' association. Arthur G. Burghoyne of the Pittsburgh Leader was elected vice president and Thomas F. Daly of the Philadelphia Press secretary and treasurer. The next meeting will be held in Philadelphia.

Farmer Killed by Trolley.
Columbus, O., Sept. 8.—Charles Wise, 45, a farmer near Havensport, O., was cut to pieces by a Scioto Valley traction car, southbound, near Carroll, Fairfield county, 21 miles south of Columbus. The car struck Wise as he was sitting on the track in a stupor.

Charged With Arson.
Dennison, O., Sept. 8.—Earnest Hitchcock, 18, was arrested here charged with burning the barn of Samuel Patterson. He is also charged with the wrecking of several residences in this neighborhood. The lad is said to be a dime novel reader.

Veteran Falls Dead.
Columbus, O., Sept. 8.—William L. Claybaugh of Rushsylvania, O., a civil war veteran, aged about 60 years, dropped dead at the entrance of the Mecca saloon, West Broad street. The coroner pronounced death due to heart trouble.

Girls Caught on Trestle.
Columbus, O., Sept. 8.—Mary Sinclair, 14, was killed, and Eva Sinclair, 18, seriously injured on the Hudson street trestle of the Toledo division of the Panhandle. They were run down by a passenger train.

GRANVILLE CENTENNIAL

(Continued from Page One.) name, for he is founder of the Granville Historical Society. The Little family look down upon us—how much we have heard this week of its most famous member; and the Harris family—this painting is that Bethiah Lunell Harris, whose bridal dress is said to have been the first silken gown in the colony. And here—in the round fair features of this pencilled face, can you imagine a sedate matronhood. It is her cap which tells that secret, and another too; can we wonder that she wore it on the very back of her pretty head, revealing the soft waves of brown hair, and the ear-rings—they were a gift of worldly sweetheart, for whose dear sake the little cap was donned. We know that he made the first clocks in Granville—one of them is ticking away, though for her bejewelled little ears time has no more measure. This waxen-taper—reflection of the light of other days—has a table to it—curtains woven by Miriam Munson; here are some, made by the hands of Charlotte Lucia Cooley, and like those others, sent to Providence to be printed by man. Printed they were, with an elaborate representation of the Siege of Gibraltar. Another piece of picture cloth—this was owned by Anna Selby Humphreys—presents us a strange medley of scenes from the American Revolution. Probably the serious-minded Puritan patriots of that day took them in deadly-enough earnest, though to us they suggest a foreshadow of the modern cartoon. Such a host of gentle hovering shades must resent our neglect of the cherished possessions that they held dear! These little baby shoes—too harsh to yield to the impress of the dimpled foot for which they were made, before the House of Hanover came to the English throne. The white frock, hanging on yonder peg, seems still to cling to the outline of the slender girlish form which wore it. Sarah Ann Case was her name. The parasol which warped off sun's rays that have long grown cold—and Jesse Munson's teapot—and Lucy Rose Bancroft Smedley's brass-framed glasses—and the tuning fork which perhaps raised the first song in Granville—here is some of the music, written by Augustine Munson's own hand from town, it was found impossible to present any exhaustive display of the school work. In the drawing departments, however, this is not true, as the walls were covered with a splendid collection of work, from the first grade through the High school. Pencil, pen and ink and water color work showed the great degree of skill which some of the pupils have attained under the efficient instructor, Miss Minnie B. Jones. The grade teachers have also supervised the preparation of dainty booklets, showing the work in spelling, language, etc. These prove of much interest to any one engaged in work with children. During the evening visitors were especially urged to call. Though no formal program was prepared, the corridors were tastefully trimmed in the centennial colors, and every preparation made for the entertainment of guests. The punch-bowl proved a popular assembling spot. Many old pupils and alumni made their way to this building during the evening, and stood as representatives of their respective classes. The first graduate (1873) was present, as was also Dr. Davis, at one time superintendent. Several informal speeches constituted the only program outside the social features.

row, at that time a trustee of Baptist Female College; the figures of the face were painted by his wife. The clock was given by Mr. Darrow to Deacon Shepardson, who a few years ago presented it to the college; and the only marks of disfigurement about it are those which it received while being removed from Science Hall during the fire this spring.

CENTENNIAL NOTES

The Granville Centennial association has its own coat of arms. A description may interest those who are in any way connected with the town's history. "Arms—Quarterly; 1st azure, an Indian habited holding in his dexter hand a bow and in sinister an arrow, all ppr., in the dexter chief an estoile, or, for Massachusetts, and, vnt, upon a tree stump ppr. The Holy Bible open or, on a chief gules three escallops or for Granville; 2nd, vert, three garbs or, on a chief azure a sun in his splendor, for Ohio; 4th, gules, paleways, a lampas burning or, crest—a wild turkey ppr. Motto: "The fathers are the glory of the children." This coat of arms is found on the Granville spoon, which has been made self; and the table has a story to itself. Its card tells us: "A wedding present to the mother of Mrs. Dinkelman, from the bride's grandmother, whose husband made it." Then we come to the Bancroft and Howe families; their history is interwoven. Their best known representative, the historian, Hubert Howe Bancroft. And here are the Wrights, tracing their lineage back to Augustine Munson through the beautiful Adah Munson Hillyer. Dr. and Mrs. Sanford must not be neglected, for they were the famous principals of one of the Granville's early schools. Silhouettes of the Whiting family lead us back to early years of the eighteenth century. Nearby, we see another rocker whose owner rested in its comfortable embrace, while journeying from Massachusetts to Ohio. She grew up to be the great-grandmother of the Ackley family. Probably the rarest piece in this collection is the Independence Quilt, gladly loaned by its present owner. There are three of them in existence; one sold last year for $3,000. The Independence Hankerchief in the center, pictures the signing of the Declaration; below are individual portraits for which stood, the other day, a lineal descendant of one of those heroes of 1776. Several chairs, besides those already noted formed parts of first-house keeping equipments a hundred years ago. Just one we must pause in reverence before—this homely, blue-painted bit of furniture belonged to great-grandmother Mrs. Canfield, who threw it down the well, with her other belongings when the British invaded Smithton, N. J., during the war of the Revolution. The old old table in the corner belonged to James Piper; his old washstand is down stairs; next to the trunk bed in which the members of the McMillen family were incarcerated for childish misdemeanors. Some of these bits of antiquity are too frail and precious to be entrusted to unholly hands; we are glad to see them, even under a glass covering. The bride who wore this shimmering silken gown, in 1833, was blessed above common mortals, for the cousin who belonged to Uncle Sam's navy brought the fascinating bit of cobwebby fabric from the Spain where a few air-castles really materialize. Lydia Whiting's wedding veil is even older, by six happy years; and we must go back to 1789 to see the first beautiful bride, who wore these silk stockings. Loanna Barber was her name; later, in her sedate matronhood, Loanna Barber Cooley outgrew such silken finery, and pieced the quilts, and spun and embroidered the linen draperies whose time-enduring manufacture honors her memory. Down stairs we looked at the bed —and the specimens of handwriting, penned by Adah Munson at "Evening School" in 1834—all clamor for our attention. Brocade gown and wedding veil, silken hose and leathern slippers, have been exchanged for the seamless garments of the new Jerusalem. The gilded harp in the corner is as mute as the one which hung on Tara's walls; the music of the spinning wheel song is growing slower, sadder, sweeter, as the old order gives place to new: "Tis there memory dwells with her pure golden hue, And music forever is flowing; While the low murmured tones that comes trembling through, Sadly trouble the heart, yet sweeten it too. As the south wind o'er water when blowing. There are shadowy halls in that fairy-like isle, Where pictures of beauty are gleaming; Yet the light of their eyes, and their sweet, sunny smile Only flash round the heart with a wildering wile, And leave us to know 'tis but dream-ing."

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

First Graduate, 1873, Was Present as Was Dr. Davis, Once Superintendent at Granville.

Granville, O., Sept. 8.—As previously announced Wednesday, Educational day, was observed by the Union public schools of the village, as well as by the college. It would perhaps be a matter of surprise to some to know how many names, great in educational circles, have been connected, as pupils or teachers, with the public schools; and in view of this fact it was suggested that on Wednesday the building remain open all day, that friends might drop in for a few minutes, whenever possible. An effort was made to bring members of graduating classes together, and the result of this was many happy reunions. It is always a cause of regret that so little is known about the history of the school; a few gatherings like this might bring to light many interesting facts. A register was therefore prepared, in order that through recorded names, the officials of the school may be kept as closely as possible in touch with the friends of other days. Owing to the summer vacation, and the absence of pupils and teachers

IN CLEVELAND HALL

Many Interesting Relics Are Seen During Week by Visitors to the Granville Centennial.

Granville, O., Sept. 8.—It would seem that the men of Granville place a higher estimate on their handiwork than on the women's productions, at least, they have put them a story higher in Cleveland Hall. The collection includes practically everything that man's hands have made, since Granville history commenced.

There are a large number of pieces of historical interest. Mr. Abner Clouse has quite a valuable collection. These include an old wooden door, belonging to the Baptist Female Seminary, in the days of Mr. Charles Sawyer; the rolls of the first carding machine used west of Pittsburgh; General Munson's fanning mill; the oldest mustard mill in Ohio.

In another room were pieces of furniture, mostly about the 1830 period. A desk was exhibited, which had been used in the primary room of the old G. F. C.; a cradle, made by hand by A. R. Stein, grandfather of Miss Clara Follett, was an article of interest.

A number of things were also shown, property of D. M. Shepardson, a plow, a four-post bedstead made for Mr. Shepardson's father, and several other pieces.

A large case is filled with literary productions of Granville men, or ex-Denison students or teachers. Dr. C. J. Herrick's work, and that of his brother, the late Dr. C. L. Herrick, was of course prominent among these.

The valuable apparatus recently perfected by Prof. C. W. Chamberlin, was shown, carefully protected by a glass case, as it is exceedingly delicate.

In the next room a large number of smaller articles were collected. Many of these are specimens of wood and iron work. A fine specimen of taxidermy is the work of Mr. Irving A. Field, of Denison, '03.

A case of bakery and fine candies mutely attested the skill of Futurer, the baker.

One article specially worthy of mention is an excellent model of a two-mast schooner, the work of Mr. John Howland. The little model is a beauty, perfectly constructed in every particular, and is peculiar in the fact that it is build of wood gathered from widely different sources. Michigan in our own country, Spain, Java and the Holy Land are among those whose resources have been drawn upon to complete the fine little vessel.

In the corner of the room stands the old clock which for so long ticked away the minutes in our lamented Barney Science Hall. This clock was made many years ago by Allen Dar-especially as a centennial souvenir. Granville merchants "did themselves proud" in Thursday morning's parade. Among those whose displays deserve special mention were the Howell Provision company, W. H. Stenger, florist, Jones & Son; plumbers, F. C. Orndorff, livery, S. E. Morrow, W. H. Owen, drugs, Case Candy Kitchen, Futurer's Bakery, Cash, hardware, H. La Ferre, tailor, Beach, Granville Ice, Sayre, plumber, and the various groceries of the village.

The fantasies of the parade were a little nearer the genuine old-fashioned circus than Granville has ever seen before. The young people of the village entered heartily into the spirit of the occasion, and the result was all that could be hoped for.

One carriage in the parade bore the label: "Granville Livery, 1805—and after seeing the quaint old vehicle we can readily believe its authenticity.

During the luncheon given on Wednesday by Mrs. J. S. Jones to G. F. C. students and teachers, the Columbus Rifles' band was stationed outside and discoursed enlivening music through the hour.

The strains of "Denison, Our Denison," floating on the evening air, bade a sweet "good-night" to Wednesday's pleasures.

At Thursday morning's meeting, the invocation was given by the Rev. Charles Little.

Preliminaries at the Thursday morning exercises were conducted by W. H. Johnson, chairman of the Citizens' Committee. He then introduced Mr. E. M. Downer, chairman of the morning, one of Granville's own honored citizens, who knew Granville before any of the mornings' speakers were born.

Dr. Shepardson paid a glowing tribute of reverence and love to "The greatest educator in the world"—Dr. Harper, who, in regret at his enforced absence, entrusted Dr. Shepardson with his message to Granville, and his assurance of his presence, in spirit, under the shadow of the hills whose majesty gave much to his own life.

The music of the centennial chorus heard on Thursday morning, was most inspiring. Well it might be, for their work is the consummation of months of unremitting practice. The voices are practically the same heard in the spring festival, but the chorus has been under constant training during the whole summer.

Thursday morning was not the first time, nor the last, that Dr. F. W. Shepardson's voice has been heard among us; it never can be heard too often, especially when his theme is Granville, as it was Thursday morning.

OLD PEOPLE AND THEIR TROUBLES

Old People have more of the pains, aches and discomforts of life than do the young. This is perfectly natural, because their blood is not so vigorous, nor their powers of resistance so great, and troubles that a younger, healthy constitution could resist often afflict them.

During the civil war I contracted Catarrh and suffered with its effects for many years. I tried various remedies and doctors, but with no good result. One day I found one of your pamphlets and read it carefully. I decided S. S. S. was the medicine I was in need of and I began its use at once. My health was dreadful, and as I was getting along in years, I had most of the pains and ailments incident to that time of life; but after taking this great remedy for while I began to improve and soon found myself a strong, well man. I am now more than 75 years of age, but my health is good, because I take an occasional bottle of S. S. S. Nothing equals it as a tonic and blood purifier, and I recommend it to those needing such a medicinal remedy. L. S. LOCKERIDGE, Forycie, Ark.

Rheumatic pains, sleepless nights, fickle appetites, etc., are not imaginary with old people, as is sometimes thought. They need a medicine that will supply their blood with its lost vigor and build up and strengthen their constitutions. S. S. S. is the ideal remedy for Old People. It is made entirely from roots, herbs, and barks, and does not injure the system in the least as do those medicines containing mineral ingredients. S. S. S. is gentle in its action, purifying the blood of all poisons and relieving old age of its discomforts by supplying a robust, healthy constitution. It is the greatest of all tonics for increasing the appetite, toning up the stomach, promoting the digestion and building up the entire system.

COUNTY INSTITUTE IS NOW OVER

RESOLUTIONS ARE ADOPTED BY BY TEACHERS AT CLOSING SESSION.

Prof. Denney's Last Talk on "The Use of the Will in Mastering English." The Election.

Friday afternoon's session of the County Teachers' Institute was perhaps the most important of the institute, owing to the election of officers for the coming year. During the week candidates for the several offices had been vigorously pressing their claims, and the election promised to be a hotly contested one. Officers to be elected were president, for a term of one year, secretary for one year, and a member of the executive committee to serve for three years. The result of the election was briefly announced in Friday's Advocate.

The nominations were as follows: For president, Supt. R. H. Nichols of Hanover, nominated by L. C. Brown of Jersey. There being but one candidate for this office, on motion the rules were suspended, and the secretary was instructed to cast the ballot for Mr. Nichols.

For secretary, Miss Kate M. Litzburg of Utica, was nominated by Miss Martha Turner of Utica. As in the previous case, a motion was made and carried that the ballot for unanimous election be cast by the secretary, and was so ordered.

For member of the executive committee there were two nominations. The name of Mr. W. H. Orr of Jacksontown was named by Supt. Atwell of Johnston; the name of Mr. John L. Jones of Pataskala was presented by Supt. C. L. Riley of Kirkersville.

The last election was voted by ballot. L. W. McKinnin of Granville, D. D. Pryor of Croton, and A. M. Hambleton of Elma being appointed as tellers. The election resulted in the choice of Mr. Jones by a vote of one hundred and forty-three against his opponent's vote of fifty-nine.

Mr. Denney's last talk was on "The Use of the Will in Mastering English." As might be expected this lecture was in no way inferior in pleasure and profit to those which have preceded it. Mr. Denney is an instructor who will be gladly welcomed back for a third year's work.

Owing to shortness of time, Mr. Denney narrowed his subject, so that it embraced only the theme of "Use of the will in mastering oral English."

A person can usually succeed in whatever he sets out to do. The greatest living violinist in the world—a happy illustration, she being a schoolmate of Prof. Denney's—was born without seeming musical talent, but because fired with an ambition which finally led to the wonderful success that Maud Powell has achieved.

If you wish to master English, as anything else, set your will to work. First, watch the good things to be found in literature. The teacher who will do this will be able to give good gifts unto her children. Watch, too, the example of others. The worst faults can be corrected in that way, and graces of one sort and another, as well as abilities, thus acquired.

Beside the will to watch, there's the will to acquire. Some people spend too much time weeding out faults, until sometimes the whole crop is gone. Better devote your energies to acquiring more good things. You want to enlarge your vocabulary? When you hear a word or phrase that you like, adopt it and use at your earliest opportunity. Then it will be yours.

A third use of the will comes in the mastery of spoken English—the will to please. A sincere desire to arouse interest and give pleasure brings some chance that you will do so. This desire makes up two-thirds of the sum of spoken English. This motive succeeds as well in work with little children, as elsewhere.

To pupils, the teacher is the fountain of language. She can do more for children's English by her own mastery of the language, than in any other way. The spirit of a school is often denoted by its English. The morals are indicated by the vocabulary; the thoroughness of the teaching by its application. The credit is not due to use of classics; not to given rules, but to the teacher. No human being can fail in a desire to respond to the best that can be offered; so the teacher has an opportunity to elevate her country by elevating the language of her pupils.

Be good-humored in correcting mistakes. Have the will to watch for the good, and to possess your pupils of the best; to please and be pleased. So the life of the community at large may be made sweet and pure and beautiful. The teacher who lives up to the highest ideal of her profession will always be found a spreader of sweetness, and a dispenser of intellectual life—as much as was Matthew Arnold, or Alfred Tennyson.

In all 228 teachers were registered during the week. Those who registered Friday afternoon follow: Carl Osborn, Jersey.

C. M. Barber, Zanesville. H. J. Dickerson, Zanesville. H. D. Evans, Hanover. J. C. McVicker, Newark. A. O. Michael, Toboso. Mr. Deane's subject for his closing talk was "Success"—a subject on which his own success in the line of his chosen work seems to make him competent to speak.

As foundations for success, Mr. Deane named three fundamental principles: (1) capability; (2) opportunity; (3) industry. We may be proud of four abilities if we have them, but should never presume upon them; large or small, they need opportunity and industry to bring them to full fruition.

Opportunity is mere space to be filled—nothing more. By capability and industry it may be enlarged; by presumption it may be taken away. The opportunity of the poor is that they can hold no place save what they win by merit. To come up through the ranks from the lowest phase of civilization, until a standing is gained upon the highest plane of American life, is the noblest honor that belongs to our great names.

Increase industry, and it means most of all, for it will take the place of meager capabilities and opportunities. Through it, the man may grow larger and stronger every year.

Opportunity is largely outside the individual, and belongs to environment. Too many people are spending their time waiting for it. If they cannot get into this or that little place of their choice, they neglect the whole world of opportunity outside.

Industry, on the contrary, belongs entirely to the individual. If you fail, it is on account of the want of zeal and earnestness that belongs to industry. The world is not looking for average results. We have too many of them already. We need men or women who have become powers in their particular lines. Into what ever field you are called, go with the spirit of work that shall make you valuable in the economy of work. "The world needs true men and women."

The committee on resolutions made their report through their chairman, Mr. L. C. Brown of Jersey, who acted with his committee, consisting of Messrs. F. F. Orr and F. M. Heston. A motion that these resolutions be adopted was seconded and carried.

The closing event of the afternoon, and perhaps the most important in the minds of some of those present, was the distribution of certificates of attendance, signed by the president and secretary. Most of the county school boards have accepted the interpretation of the law which gives teachers a week's pay for their five days' attendance, though some of the boards have compromised by making the Institute work count as one week of the school year. Few of those in attendance have any other feeling than that the exercises of the week have been pleasing and profitable in the highest degree.

The report of the committee on resolutions follows: Whereas, this has been one of the most successful and helpful Institutes of the teachers of Licking county, be it

Resolved, That we tender our sincere thanks to Supt. Deane and Prof. Denney for the very helpful and practical nature of their work throughout the session; and be it also

Resolved, That the officers of the Institute be commended for their successful management of the Institute, and the quarterly association; also that the chairman be commended for his promptness in commencing the sessions and his efficiency in general as presiding officer; also be it

Resolved, That we tender our thanks to Rev. Mr. Berger and Miss Gray for their assistance in the music and the devotional exercises; also to the Y. M. C. A. for the use of their singing books.

Resolved, That we extend our thanks to the Board of Education for their kindness in allowing us the free use of the school building; also

Resolved, That we express our thanks to the retiring secretary of the O. T. R. C. for his untiring efforts in promoting the work during his two years' service, and that the teachers be urged to give their united support to the new secretary; and be it further

Resolved, That the teachers of the county be commended for their interest and punctuality in their attendance and that they be urged to manifest a like interest in the quarterly associations throughout the year.

DRAWING IN PUBLIC SCHOOL

SECOND ANNUAL EXHIBIT OF WORK MAY NOW BE SEEN AT UNION BLOCK.

Powers-Miller Store Windows Filled With Splendid Drawings Made By Newark Boys and Girls.

There are over 650 specimens of pupils' art work, done in pencil, ink and pen now on exhibition in the Powers-Miller windows in the Union block and the citizens of Newark are urgently invited to inspect them. Look the work over carefully and you will be still better pleased with the Newark schools. A part of this work was on exhibition at the State Teachers' Association at Put-in-Bay early in July and attracted much attention. A number of prominent school men pronounced it the best in Ohio—both in kind and in execution. The present exhibit shows a marked improvement in accuracy of work. Every skilled mechanic in the city should see this work.

The manual training specimens are a surprise to many. It will do any one good to see them. In this exhibit it is easy to see the relation of industrial drawing to skilled shop work—to the skilled industry of the country.

Many ask how much time is given to drawing. The program calls for about 50 minutes per week in the first and second grades; about 110 minutes in the second and third grades; and a little over two hours in the higher grades. Drawing was made a special branch 13 years ago and Captain F. C. Steele put in charge of it as special teacher and supervisor. During the first six years Mr. Steele could visit each school once a week in the three days per week for which he was employed. Since then he has taught five days a week and when the new Woodside school is finished he will only visit the rooms below the fifth grade once in two weeks, showing that the Newark schools have nearly doubled in 13 years.

The regular teacher is required to carry out the work as directed by the supervisor, and Mr. Steele wishes the public to know that the corps of grade teachers are entitled to a full share of credit for the good results obtained. In the display now up only three or four rooms are represented. Every year each pupil above the second grade is to hand in a specimen of his drawing. From these specimens the best are used for the exhibits. The prize specimens consist of 12 drawings from each room of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades, 4 to 6 from the fifth and sixth grades and 1 to 4 from each room below the fifth grade.

The Powers-Miller company has most generously presented to each school room below the High school a suitable indoor United States flag as a prize to the pupils having the best specimens in the display.

The High school will receive one handsome silk flag for its Assembly room. The names of the winners will be placed permanently near the resting place of the room flag. It will require over 80 flags to supply the rooms. The public schools are distinctly state and national institutions and every school house should have a flag waving above it, and every school room a flag near its teacher's desk.

AMUSEMENTS

Seats for "The Belle of the West" at the Auditorium tonight are now on sale at the box office.

It has been frequently asserted that Thomas W. Lawson is named as one of the promoters of the great problem play of Frenzied Finance, "A Slave of the Mill." By close observation one can easily discern that Lawson's principles predominate.

The great Labor Day attraction at the Auditorium will be the National Stock company, beginning Monday afternoon, Sept. 4, when the greatest of melodramas, "Shadows of Sin," will be presented. This company comes well recommended and will no doubt please Newark theatre goers. Seats on sale tomorrow.

Sol Smith Russell's "A Poor Relation" is an intensely human drama, telling a story full of heart interest as well as wit and humor. The play will be presented at the Auditorium soon.

Don't fail to witness the Sextette number "Eastern Girls and Western Men." In B. E. Forrester's stupendous production of The Belle of the West, the musical comedy, at the Auditorium tonight. It is one of the prettiest things that has been given us. The music is catchy, the girls are extremely pretty and the costumes worn are exquisite.

They Appeal to Our Sympathies.

The bilious and dyspeptic are constant sufferers and appeal to our sympathies. There is not one of them, however, who may not be brought back to health and happiness by the use of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. HAPPY WOMEN.

Plenty of Them in Newark, and Good Reason For It.

Wouldn't any woman be happy, After years of backache suffering, Days of misery, nights of unrest, The distress of urinary troubles She finds relief and cure? No reason why any Newark reader Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Mary E. Manville, of 24 South 4th St., Newark, O., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are the best thing I know of for rheumatic troubles. I got more relief out of one box than from all the other remedies I have ever used. I had suffered a great deal from rheumatism in my loins and back. It caught me first in one place and then in another, but was always present somewhere. Nothing seemed to give any relief until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's drug store. Apparently they drove all the rheumatism out of my system for I have never had a return of the trouble and that was over five years ago. My husband has also used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

WELSH PEOPLE AT GRANVILLE

ARE DEEPLY INTERESTED IN THE HOME COMING THERE DURING NEXT WEEK.

General Program of the Event is Announced Below—Music Will be a Feature.

Granville, O., Sept. 2.—The general program of exercises of the Welsh people, at their Home-coming event next week is now announced. Much interest has developed in this event. The anticipated excellence of the speaking, and the assurance, arising from the reputation of Welsh singers and singing, of a first class musical entertainment, has induced the general management of the Centennial exercises not to fix any other exercises for the afternoon and evening of Friday, the eighth of September, so that all the people may be able to enjoy the pleasure of these exercises.

The general program is as follows: During the forenoon from 9:30 to 11:30 a reception will be held at the church, at the corner of Elm and Main streets, where there will be placed the pictures of the deceased Welsh fathers and mothers, making a reunion of the living, and as far as possible of the deceased. There will also be at the church a register in which it is desired that all the Welsh attendants, whether of whole or partial blood, write their names and the names of the members of the family attending. When the people arrive during the forenoon, it is desired by the refreshment committee, that each one deliver his or her basket to the committee. The committee will attach a card to each basket having the name of the owner on it, so that it can be found readily when departing for home. This committee will be engaged in preparing for the dinner, at the old peoples' home grounds during the forenoon, and will be found there. The use of these grounds for the exercises have been kindly donated by the authorities of the home and by Dr. Follett.

It is expected that, at 11:30 a. m., dinner will be served by the ladies at the tables, where it is expected that all the Welsh home-comers and their guests from a distance, will be seated at the tables near the grounds. At 1:30 p. m., the exercises at the platform on the old peoples' grounds, will commence. These exercises will consist of speaking on subjects germane to the centennial week and the singing by the choir and the Cambrian club of Columbus. All are cordially invited to be present at these exercises as well as the concert in the evening.

A concert will be given in the evening by the choir and the Cambrian club, the performance commencing at 7 o'clock. If the weather will permit the concert will be given from the stand on the grounds at the home. In case of inclement weather, the place of the concert will be announced later. The Cambrian club will be compelled to leave for home a little after 9 o'clock in the evening, so that it is necessary for the concert to begin at 7 o'clock promptly. In order that the full program may be given by 9. The Rev. B. Gwernid Newton of Pittsburg, Pa., will act as moderator at the concert. Mr. Newton has great "Eis teiddodie" and musical experience. His explanations of the Welsh pieces will add to the interest of the English speaking part of the audience. The pleasure of the Welsh people will be increased in geometrical ratio, by the unanimous attendance of all the people.

BRIDAL TOUR

Interrupted by the Detectives, Who Kidnaped Their Man in Paducah, Ky.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 2.—Walter Coleman, the Illinois Central man, who is wanted in New Orleans in connection with the Illinois Central box car robberies, was brought to the city yesterday by special officers who went to Paducah, Ky., to get him.

The officers ran up against the hardest fight of their lives at Paducah. They kidnaped Coleman and hustled him out of Paducah on a special train. They were overtaken by Sheriff Porter however, and Detective Kenner was taken a prisoner with Coleman back to the city.

Coleman was on his bridal tour and had decided to settle in Kentucky. He is a handsome young fellow, and was married here last June to a New Orleans girl. He was on his wedding trip when he heard of the unearthing of the box car gang in New Orleans.

CHICKEN THIEF

Took Eighteen Fowls from Jos. Atkinson of Pataskala and Comes to Grief at Columbus.

Columbus, O., Sept. 2.—"Bob White," or George Gardner, as he afterwards admitted his real name to be, confessed to Chief O'Connor that he stole the 18 chickens found in his possession when arrested. He said that he stole them from Joseph Atkinson, of near Pataskala, and that he walked into Columbus afterwards to sell them. Mr. Atkinson claimed his chickens on Friday afternoon and an affidavit will be filed against Gardner.

The Herrick people will scarcely again claim that Cox is not the boss of Ohio. During the last legislature Cox telephoned to the members of the state legislature 55 times to give orders to that honorable body and the state of Ohio paid the bills. The Columbus Citizen Friday printed the itemized bills. More than this Cox is said to have telephoned at divers times to Governor Herrick. Himself, and the state also paid these bills. Demand was made on the governor to make the telephone bills public but he refused saying that the newspapers just wanted them for campaign material. And the state of Ohio paid to have this man Cox, boss the governor and legislature by telephone.

Intimations are being given out at Washington that Senator Burton, of Kansas, is not to be prosecuted further. It will be remembered that Burton was convicted of using his position of United States Senator to further the business of a swindling concern at St. Louis and was sentenced to a term in prison and to pay a heavy fine. He was given a new trial solely for the reason that the supreme court held that he should have been tried in Washington instead of St. Louis. There was no question about his guilt. Now when public interest in his case has largely died out the information comes from headquarters that Burton is likely to be turned loose and his case abandoned. That is the way our strenuous administration usually punishes its big grafters and thieves.

Saxby's Travelers' Magazine, a non-partisan publication, whose editor we believe is a Republican says:

"Nine railroad men out of ten will vote for John M. Pattison for Governor of Ohio. He is a candidate with an unscathed escutcheon. We have been kleeing for a long time about honesty in politics. Now is our chance to show whether we are bluffing or not. Don't talk. Work and then vote accordingly."

TAXING MEN FOR DYING

The late Republican legislature in its attempt to increase the revenue of the State to meet increasing expenditures, without making any apparent increase in the "state tax rate," devised numerous schemes to fool the public into the belief that with all the self-evident extravagance of administration, there was no increase in taxation.

One of these measures was, in its ineptness, known as House Bill, No. 384 by Mr. Russell of Meigs. It was an administration pet. The Governor, the Secretary of State, the State Auditor, the State Treasurer and the Attorney-General united in favor of it. Mr. Crist, of Columbiana, first introduced the measure, but was making such slow progress that it was dropped and Mr. Russell reintroduced it.

This administration pet is what is known as the direct inheritance tax law, which proceeded on the theory, that a man who paid taxes while living was not likely to object to being taxed for dying. Coincident with the introduction of the bill by Mr. Russell, Governor Herrick sent a message to the House urging its passage. The rest of the State House lobby came to the front, and the bill was railroaded through and promptly approved by Governor Herrick.

The law may be found on pages 398-400 of the Session Laws. It provides among other things, that on all sums in excess of $3,000 of direct inheritance, tax in the amount of 2 per centum shall be paid.

This comes out of the money left to the widow and orphans as a sort of a penalty for the death of the head of the household who had previously paid full taxation on the same property.

On page 920 of the House Journal it will be found that the bill was voted for and enacted into a law by the following Republican representatives: Aikin, Baldwin, Bassett, Binckley, Braun, Briggs, Bright, Bronson, Buchtel, Carr, Cockley, Crafts, Crawford, Crist, Demuth, Downs, Eagelson, Eubanks, Evans, Farner, Fischer, Fisher, Harper, Hays, Hensel, Hill, Holmes, Huey, Jones of Jefferson, Johnston, Kennedy, Kimball, LeFever, Little, McConnell, McDonald, Manix, Moulton, Nihart, Osler, Paine, Pumphrey, Rawson, Ray, Reich, Reynolds, Reigle, Roll, Rowland, Russell, Sawyer, Smith of Washington, Sprague, Tenney, Thomas, Thompson of Lawrence, Treadway, Tyler, Wagner, Watson, Wayne, Welker, Whitney, Williams of Mahoning, Mr. Speaker.

In the Senate the following Republicans completed the work of making it into a law ready for Governor Herrick's signature: Austin, Bruce, Carson, Chamberlain, Dunlap, Godfrey, Harding, Harris, Harrison, Harvey, Heinlein, Hypes, Judson, Kinsman, Lauman, Moore, Pollock, Ricketts, Shallenberger, Shumaker, Silverberg and Stewart.

MR. PATTISON CAN AND WILL BE ELECTED

Mr. Pattison was nominated by the delegates from the country and if he is elected, which we believe he will be, it will be done by the voters from the country, and the counties outside the large cities. If every Democrat in the state outside of the cities will but do his best, with the feeling there is now among the great masses of the people of all parties against bossism, Coxism, and official graft and corruption, we will go down to Hamilton county with such a majority that Cox and his henchmen can not influence or count out enough votes to offset them, unless he does as the organization did in Philadelphia, get the names of thirty thousand, some sixty thousand, out of the graveyards. The people of Ohio will not stand for the theft of the state in this year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and five.

PATASKALA'S HOME-COMING

NUMBER OF NEWARK PEOPLE IN CROWD OF 3000 ON THE FAIR GROUND.

Program of Sports Enjoyed by the Crowd—Old Officers Hold Over For Another Year.

Pataskala, O., Sept. 8.—Pataskala's home-coming at the old fair ground was attended by 3000 people and it was a success in every respect. The amusements attracted a big crowd. The first event was the hitch kick with $1 up. Harry Fravel, Pataskala; Homer Kuhn, Etna; John Crane, Columbus and M. E. Davis, Newark, were the contestants. Fravel and Crane tied on the highest kick, but Crane alighted on the wrong foot, the money was given to the former.

In the polo race there were six contestants. Home Merchant won first money and Wayne Johnson second.

Three went after the hop, step and jump prize. Harry Fravel won.

In the "dash" race there were five entries. Harry Fravel won.

In the relay race there were two sides with five on a side. The winners were: Raymond Rusk, Tom Van Dorn, Howard Cooper, Lee Strickler and Fred Moore. The purse was $5.

The literary program was carried out as advertised, with the substitution of Rev. W. F. Layport for the response to the address of welcome, in place of Mr. S. P. Atkinson, who was unable to be present. Reading were given by Miss Ada Hunt and Miss Mildred Foskett.

At the close of these exercises the crowd was permitted to disperse before an election of officers could be held, therefore the old officers are still in charge.

The following Newark people graced the occasion here Tuesday with their presence: Mrs. Alma McIntosh, Helen McIntosh, T. J. Ewing and wife, W. B. Hahn and wife, Chas. H. Hahn, James Williams and wife, Chas. Vadakin and wife, Miss Zena Coons, C. E. Vanarsdale and family, Frank Vanarsdale and family, W. P. Besse and wife, D. M. Keller, E. M. P. Brister, Mrs. J. C. McCray, Mrs. Kittie Evans, Frank Howard and wife, Lewis C. Coons, Mrs. Grift Rosebrough, Mr. and Mrs. McPherson, M. E. Davis and family.

THE LANDSLIDE IS COMING, SURE.

Painesville Telegraph, Stalwart Republican:

"The feeling against Governor Herrick continues and seems daily to grow in strength. Republican leaders who attempt to disguise the fact are making a mistake and the issue must be faced sooner or later. As to whether this feeling against the governor is warranted or mistaken is not the question right now.

"The Republican state committee seems to be making a mistake, at the very outset, by ridiculing this feeling. One of their most senseless arguments is that the Republican voters of Ohio, by casting their ballots against Governor Herrick, will register their disapproval of the administration of President Roosevelt and fail to support him in his work of digging the Panama canal. Such statements might have been accepted in good faith ten or even five years ago, but not today.

"The state committee, if it intends to soften the hearts of the many Republicans who are opposed to Myron T. Herrick, must go before the people with an honest explanation of the governor's record and, if he is being wronged, show wherein he has been maligned.

"The question this fall will not be Roosevelt or national issues. It will be Governor Herrick, and the party leaders must face the fact.

"Many good Republicans in this section of the state openly vow that they will not support Governor Herrick for reelection. Others have gone farther and have announced that they will fight him with all their power."

MANY ATTEND FAMILY REUNION

COOPERRIDER GATHERING HELD IN BEAUTIFUL GROVE ON THURSDAY.

Good Program of Addresses and Music. Sketch of the Cooperrider Family Here Given.

Thursday will long be remembered as the day upon which the Cooperrider reunion was held. The weather was ideal for holding an outdoor meeting, and the roads leading to the beautiful grove in which the gathering was held were thronged with well laden vehicles of all descriptions. By the noon hour a large crowd has assembled.

The morning session opened with music by the Brownsville cornet band. In the absence of Rev. Mr. Lautenschlaeger the invocation was made by Rev. G. T. Cooperrider of Columbus, Ohio.

After a few words of welcome by the chair and another selection by the band, a rest of two hours was given for dinner and a general good time. It is needless to say that during this interval ample justice was done to one of those splendid dinners for which Perry county cooks are so justly famous.

After dinner the following program was rendered:

Music by the band.
Song by several children.
Address, Rev. C. J. E. Lautenschlaeger, Glenford, O.

Music by the band.
Song by several young misses.

Address, Rev. G. T. Cooperrider, Columbus, O.

Song by children.

Family history, by Carl Cooperrider, Chalfant, O.

Song, Male quartet.

Song by choir.

The concluding number was by Miss Margaret Cooperrider, Brownsville, O., who gave one of her characteristic renderings of "Jackson's New Wife."

In response to an encore she gave another well received number.

The benediction was then pronounced by Rev. Mr. Lautenschlaeger, after which the audience joined in singing the doxology.

John Cooperrider, Sr., emigrated from Germany to America and settled near Uniontown, Fayette county, Pa., about the middle of the 18th century. He was accompanied by a brother, whose name is now unknown to us. This brother being of an adventurous disposition left Pennsylvania for the wilds of Kentucky, which at the time was being opened for settlement by Daniel Boone and his companions.

The brother never having been afterwards heard from, was supposed either to have died or to have been killed by the Indians.

In recent years, however, a number of Cooperriders have been discovered who hail from Kentucky, among them being a shipper of live stock, living in Kentucky, and one Doctor Cooperrider from near Cincinnati, O. By correspondence with this Kentucky family we learn that they are unable to trace their origin; but they are doubtless the descendants of the long lost brother. John Cooperrider, the leading character of our sketch, was blessed with a goodly portion of this world's goods, and, as will be seen later on, with a rather numerous family. He was one of those wideawake old Germans, and had an eye to business.

So in the year 1800 we find him in company with Peter Walser, Sr., who also had a good sized family, starting from Pennsylvania, on horse back, to explore what was then called the Northwest Territory, in search of lands for their children. Two years later, a part of this territory was erected into what is now the great State of Ohio. From 1800 until 1812 he continued at intervals to make these journeys on horseback, following Indian trails through dense forests, as far west as Chillicothe, where the United States land office was located.

He entered tracts of Congress land from time to time, and purchased others, second hand, from speculators, until he had secured one hundred and sixty acres each, for his children.

The children were twelve in number, eleven sons, and one daughter. The names of the sons were John, Andrew, William, Philip, David, Jacob, Emanuel, Peter, Lewis, Abraham and George. The daughter's name was Margaret. She became the wife of George Shelly Sr. All these farms except two, were situated near each other. The farm given to George was near Millersport, Fairfield county, and the one given to William was located near Marysville, Union county.

The old "home farm" upon which Father Cooperrider himself lived, is now owned and operated by Alva Cooperrider.

It is a somewhat remarkable fact that during all these years only one of the farms has passed into the hands of strangers, the others remaining among descendants of the original owners. Father Cooperrider not only made provision for the temporal needs of his children, but was concerned also about their spiritual needs. In religion he was a staunch Lutheran and true to his mission. He took an active part in planting the robust faith of the Reformation in the wilds of Ohio. The pioneer missionary found a hospitable home beneath his roof. Indeed his house was used by the missionary as a preaching station before the organization of the congregation, and the erection of the log church, which occurred in 1818. A suitable building site having been selected upon one of his farms he generously donated to the infant congregation a lot for church and cemetery purposes. This lot is the one upon which the present Good Hope church now stands.

He no doubt builded better than he knew, this leaving to his numerous posterity a far nobler inheritance than lands—that of an imperishable faith. For the most part his descendants are farmers and mechanics. Quite a number, however are teachers. One is in the ministry; one died while preparing for the ministry and three are in the medical profession. They are widely scattered. Besides those living in Ohio some are in Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Arkansas and Indian Territory.

Their number is now legion, and as to what it will be at the close of the next century belongs rather to the eye of prophecy than to the historian's pen.

TRUST COMPANIES

Controlled by Mutual Life, According to Official's Testimony.

New York, Sept. 8.—The affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance society and the Mutual Life Insurance company held the attention of the legislative life insurance investigating committee, in session in this city. Nothing new was developed in reference to the Equitable other than the statement drawn from one of the officers that the society does not know the present whereabouts of Thomas D. Jordan, the former comptroller. It was stated that Mr. Jordan was wanted as a witness to explain the loan of $650,000 made to the Equitable society by the Mercantile Trust company. It was also stated that James H. Hyde, formerly first vice president of the Equitable, will later be called as a witness before the committee. An officer of the Mutual Life Insurance company testified that the Mutual controls many trust companies. Frederick Cromwell, treasurer of the Mutual, said the company had bought securities from syndicates; that officers of the company also bought securities from syndicates and received individual profits by selling these bonds to the company.

French Manager Expelled. Caracas, Sept. 8.—The following governmental decree has been issued: "Whereas, M. Brun, manager of the French cable company, has protested before the national government against the decree closing the overland and coast offices of the company; and whereas, this action shows that M. Brun is ignorant of the laws of the republic, the president decrees that the said M. Brun be expelled from the territory of the republic."

Pursuant to the dissolving of the contract of the French Cable company a decree closed the coast and overland offices of the company, which remained in charge only of the Lagunayra office for dispatches relating to foreign business.

PIUTE INDIANS

Hold the Last Gathering of the Tribe. Gambling and Dancing.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 8.—What is likely to be the last gathering of the Piute Indians is now in progress at the Pahump ranch on the Inyarn-Bullfrog road, where at least 200 members of the tribe are gathered from all parts of Nevada, Arizona and elsewhere. The occasion is the anniversary of the first invasion of the famous old chief, Tecopah, whose last resting place is about a mile from the ranch at Pahump. The first ceremonies of the gathering were the gambling games, which lasted two days. Then there was a big dance, participated in by all the tribes. Besides the Piutes there are Indians of two other tribes present to pay their respects to the memory of the dead chief.

Waiting For an Armistice. Harbin, Manchuria, Sept. 8.—The result of the Portsmouth conference was officially announced to the Russian forces here. The army, however, is still without official orders from St. Petersburg to cease its warlike activities and the situation is intense. The soldiers are waiting for an armistice to be declared, and they can not understand how Russia can talk of peace while the Japanese continue reconnaissances in force and outpost engagements. The fighting Sept. 3 in Korea can not be understood here.

HAY FEVER SEASON HAS STRUCK NEWARK

Scientists Claim Rag Weed is Not to Blame, but Continued Hot Weather is Responsible.

Hay fever has struck Newark good and hard during the past few days. Out in the country, they say, the rag weed is blooming and its golden colored pollen is drifting through the atmosphere in clouds.

Later day scientists, however, express the opinion that it is not the rag weed that is to blame, but that hay fever is the effect upon the nasal nerves of continued hot weather. To prove their claims they point to the fact that when people who are troubled by the malady go to warm climates the disease follows them and is just as virulent as it is in the heart of the rag weed section, albeit there is no rag weed within a thousand miles. They add that after a few months in the hot climate the nerve become accustomed to the heat and the affliction vanishes.

Another peculiarity of the hay fever is that not many residents of the rural districts are bothered with it. There they grow up with the rag weed you might say. They wade through growths of it waist deep in their meanderings about the farm. They come in from the fields with their plough shoes transformed into golden broughams. The pollen settles on housepets and on fences like the dust of the highway and every breath the countryman takes is laden with the infinitesimal parasites. Some times the atmosphere is so full of it and its odor is so pungent as to make a fellow sneeze a few times but that is about the nearest approach to hay fever the man in the country is obliged to take.

GAVE CIGAR TO MAN WHO RESTORED CASH.

Kankakee, Ill., Sept. 2.—E. W. Taylor, a real estate dealer, found a pocket book containing $100 in bills and a check amounting to $68.20 on a Birmingham, Ala. bank, and a bankbook showing the owner had $195,000 deposited in the same institution, on a Chicago bound train Thursday. The eloquent, Frank P. Koonitz, Jr., of Birmingham, a negro, gave the finder a five cent cigar.

HERRICK'S OPPOSITION IN HIS OWN PARTY

It Does Not Consist of Disappointed Office Seekers as the Governor Claims, and Many People Take Offense at His Statement--Why President Roosevelt Will Not Help Herrick Out.

Columbus, O., Sept. 2.—Governor Herrick has made a peculiar classification of the Republican voters of this state. He says that all the Republicans who oppose his reelection are disappointed office seekers. This proves that there are more office seekers in the Republican party of Ohio than anybody supposed.

Speaking seriously, the governor's recent attack on his Republican opponents, is considered most untimely here by the shrewdest politicians of both parties. In characterizing the opposition to him in his own party as selfish and sore headed the governor has deeply offended many good people who are not either. No doubt, like every gubernatorial candidate for a second term, he finds some persons here and there in his own party who oppose him from motives of revenge or for other reasons of an unworthy character. But the great body of Republican opposition to Herrick is not of this nature, and the governor makes a most serious mistake when he assumes it.

Does he believe it? That is the question that bothers the politicians in this neck of the woods. Some say that the governor is utterly blind to existing conditions and that his confidence in the result of this campaign proceeds from ignorance. Others argue that he is merely throwing dust in the eyes of the public in his method of dealing with the Republican opposition to him, but that in his own consciousness he knows very well the breadth and depth of it.

But, whatever causes contribute to the conclusion which the governor reaches regarding the character and extent of this Republican opposition to him, there can be no doubt that the situation is growing worse for him daily. Thus far it has not been improved by the management of his campaign or by his own attitude. The resolutions adopted opposing his reelection by organized bodies throughout the state are appearing with increasing regularity and added vehemence. The number of Republican individual voters who publicly break loose from their political moorings and openly announce their intention to vote for Pattison, is growing in the same ratio.

The hope that the national administration would step in and come to the rescue of the governor's declining fortunes must be abandoned. Mr. Roosevelt is too busy with Russia, Japan and a few other things, thank you, to inject himself into the Ohio campaign this fall. Even the mild subterfuge of having him cross the state ostensibly on some other mission and make a few speeches to save Herrick's bacon en route, cannot be effected. It has become an open secret that the President is not enamored of either the governor or his senatorial manager, General Dick. He will hold himself aloof from the campaign in Ohio, and it will be the first time such a thing has happened, with a Republican in the White House for more than a generation. The President's attitude will have a serious effect on the campaign in two negative ways. First, it will permit those whom he might restrain to go astray from the Republican ticket, and, second, it takes the element of federal patronage entirely out of the fight and leaves the Republicans no spoils to distribute or hope for, except those which proceed from the government at Columbus and have the O K of George B. Cox. The hosts of Herrick, led by Dick, with Malloy second in command, will have to go it alone this year; and their course will not be upward or onward.

GRAFTING AS IT IS GRAFTED ON LAWS.

The act of May 10, 1902, creating the Bureau of Uniform Accounting, while not of itself vicious, was unnecessary. The law already provided for the examination of the accounts of all public officials.

It created a number of fat offices and opened up a rich field for favored blank book manufacturers. Still it contained some safeguards for the public, as will be seen when one reads it on pages 511-12-13-14-15, Ohio Laws, 1902.

This act required that the supervisors and inspectors should return their expense accounts and per diem to the State Auditor, who should enter them of record, collect the account from the proper officer in each taxing body, cover the money into the state treasury to the credit of the public audit expense fund and pay the supervisors on vouchers drawn against that fund.

This made a record and the real destination of the vast volume of fees, charges and expenses of the supervisors and inspectors could be traced, and the public could see whether or not the sums collected were "only sufficient to fully cover all expenses," in behalf of the audit as set forth in Section 10 of the act.

The act of April 20, 1904, (see Ohio Laws, 1904, pages 271-72-73-74) vitally amends and largely repeals the original act. It especially repeals every one of the foregoing safeguards and substitutes none other in their stead. Under the new law the supervisors collect the bills of expense, the money is not turned into the state treasury, there is no requirement that it shall be accounted for and there is to be no record made of it.

Why was this remarkable and radical change made in the law? Was it for grafting purposes? If not, why not? Why break down all the safeguards of the original act?

The first annual report of the salaries, fees and expenses shows them to have been $15,343.02 divided between the auditor, three deputy supervisors and a clerk.

The second and last annual report shows that salaries, fees and expenses amounted to $49,850.92, divided between State Auditor Guilbert and 30 assistants.

At the same ratio of increase this year (when no record is to be kept or published) the money accruing will reach some $200,000.

Perhaps the public or certain individuals would feel bad if the distribution of "divvy" were made public.

Those in attendance from a distance were Harlan Hays and niece of Indiana, Miss Allison of Des Moines, Iowa, Miss Bertha Burris of Chicago.

Jacob Hays of Morgan township, nearly 79 years of age, is the oldest Hays living. James Bell of Utica nearly 82 years of age, is the oldest Bell representative living.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President—Ed M. Bell, of Utica. Vice president, Ira L. Wolfe, of Gambier.

Secretary, Amelia C. Hays, of Utica. Treasurer, C. C. Hughes, of Utica. Executive committee, Rex L. Bell, Clement D. Hayes, Hugh Clutter, all of Utica.

The next annual reunion will be held the third Saturday in August, 1906, at the Bell church.

CASINO CLOSES

Sunday Will be Last Day at Idlewild Park Theatre for the Season. "Resurrection" Tonight.

"Resurrection" will be the bill at Idlewild Casino. This popular play has been seen before in Newark, but like Uncle Tom's Cabin, East Lynne, and others, it never grows old. Every company has different interpretations of the characters of Tolstol's famous story, and the Orpheum Stock company is no exception to the rule. Tomorrow will witness the closing of the Casino for the season. Sunday matinee "The Southern Romance," will be repeated by special request. On Sunday night the melodrama of mystery "Sherlock Holmes," will be presented. There has been considerable interest manifested in the drawing to be made, tonight for a beautiful solid gold watch and it is expected that a large crowd will be present.

GHOSTLY

Was Their Role and They Nearly Scared One Ohio Man to Death.

Marion, O., Sept. 2.—Ex-Mayor Samuel McHaffey played the role of ghost with several others while fishing in Michigan, and Kirk Lucas, a member of the party, was the victim. His death nearly resulted from sheer fright.

For several nights the Marion men slept in an old saw mill, which was said to be haunted. There was nothing doing from the spirit world the first night, and some of the members of the party decided to act in the capacity of ghosts.

Frank Huntsman was put onto the joke, and he and Lucas were left alone in the mill on the night of the planned ghost visit.

Lucas collapsed from fright, the services of a physician being necessary. He is still in a dangerous condition.

THOMPSON'S BAROSMA.

Do you realize that the annoying kidney trouble of your young children, of your baby, will lead in time to fatal results if not remedied? Thousands of children, of young men and women, die every year because of the neglect of parents to give the proper care in this respect in their early years. Mrs. Fred Lobenz, of Titusville, Pa., writes that her little son, four years old, after being given three bottles of Thompson's Barosma, was permanently cured of bed-wetting, an annoying trouble since babyhood. Mrs. N. F. Leslie, of Oil City, Pa., says her five-year old daughter, after several months of ineffective treatment by physicians for bladder trouble, and being in dangerous condition, was completely cured by six bottles of Thompson's Barosma, Kidney and Liver Cure. Thompson's Barosma is absolutely harmless, 50c. and $1.00. THE WILER, ERMAN DRUG CO.

Many Persons Have Catarrh of Kidneys, Or Catarrh of Bladder and Don't Know It.

President Newhof and War Correspondent Richards were Promptly Cured By Pe-ru-na.

Mr. C. B. Newhof, 10 Delamare street, Albany, N. Y., President Montefiore Club, writes:

"Since my advanced age I find that I have been frequently troubled with urinary ailments. The bladder seemed irritated, and my physician said that it was catarrh caused by a contracted cold which would be difficult to cure, come on account of my advanced years. I took Peruna, hardly daring to believe that I would be helped, but I found to my relief that I soon began to mend. The irritation gradually subsided and the urinary difficulties passed away. I have enjoyed excellent health now for the past seven months. I enjoy my meals, sleep soundly, and am as well as I was twenty years ago. I give all praise to Peruna."—C. B. Newhof.

Suffered From Catarrh of Kidneys, Threatened With Nervous Collapse, Cured By Pe-ru-na.

Mr. F. B. Richards, 609 E. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., War Correspondent, writes: "Exactly six years ago I was ordered to Cuba as staff correspondent of the New York Sun. I was in charge of a Sun Dispatch boat through the Spanish American War. The effect of the tropical climate and the nervous strain showed plainly on my return to the states. Lassitude, depression to the verge of melancholia, and incessant kidney trouble made me practically an invalid. This undesirable condition continued, despite the best of treatment.

Finally a brother newspaper man, who like myself had served in the war, induced me to give a faithful trial to Peruna. I did so. In a short time the lassitude left me, my kidneys resumed a healthy condition, and a complete cure was effected. I cannot too strongly recommend Peruna to those suffering with kidney trouble. To-day I am able to work as hard as at any time in my life, and the examiner for a leading insurance company pronounced me an "A risk."

In Poor Health Over Four Years. Pe-ru-na Only Remedy of Real Benefit.

Mr. John Nimmo, 215 Jippincoot St., Toronto, Can., a prominent merchant of that city and also a member of the Masonic order, writes:

"I have been in poor health generally for over four years. When I caught a bad cold last winter it settled in the bladder and kidneys, causing serious trouble. I took two greatly advertised kidney remedies without getting the desired results. Peruna is the only remedy which was really of any benefit to me. I have not had a trace of kidney trouble nor a cold in my system."

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotics of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh. There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years. Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.

PRES. C. B. NEWHOF, Suffered From Catarrh of Bladder.
